BREAK AT SPA CONFERENCE IMMINENT

CHRISTENSEN HEADS THIRD PARTY

MANY DESERTING AS LABOR GROUP RULES PLATFORM

Former Texas Governor Leads Bolters When It Is Seen That Labor Delegates' Platform Will Be Adopted.

LA FOLLETTE REFUSES TO RUN ON PLATFORM

Wisconsin Senator Given Big Demonstration by Followers, But Boom Is Crushed by Convention Steam Roller.

Chicago, July 15.—Parley P. Christensen, Salt Lake City lawyer, a member of the committee of forty-eight, was nominated as the presidential candidate for the new farmer-labor party by its convention at 2:30 o'clock this morning.

Christensen was chosen on the second ballot. Christensen was elected over Dudley Field Malone of New York by a vote of 192.5 to 174.6.

The new party convention failed to agree on a nominee for president on the first ballot taken late tonight. The result of the first ballot was as follows:

Dudley Field Malone, 166.6; Eugene V. Debs, 68; Parley P. Christensen, 121.1; Henry Ford, 12.3; Governor Lynn J. Frazier, 9; Herbert Bigelow, 9; Louis F. Post, 1.7.

The convention then voted to drop all candidates except Malone and Christensen and proceeded with the voting on the second ballot.

The "farmer-labor party" was the name chosen by the convention of the new political party here tonight.

Robert La Follette, Jr., notified new party leaders tonight that his father would not run under any circumstances on the platform adopted.

The labor group was dominant when the new fusion party adopted a platform late today in preparation for nomination of candidates at tonight's session.

A minority report from the platform committee was sponsored by three of the five representatives of the committee of forty-eight, but was defeated by a vote of slightly less than three to one.

Adopted by Big Majority.

The majority report was signed by the five labor members of the committee on resolutions and two of the party of forty-eight's representatives. It was adopted by a big majority, which on motion was made unanimous.

Defections from the ranks of the new party began when it was shown that the minority report would be overwhelmingly defeated. James Ferguson, former governor of Texas, was the first openly to pull out of the meeting. He was followed by delegates from several states, none of whom was identified with the labor party.

A near stampede developed when an attempt was made to forestall introduction of the majority platform report by the submission to the convention of a report that was reputed to be acceptable to Senator Robert M. La Follette. The senator's friends launched the attack with a declaration that the convention was boss-ridden and clique-controlled and that the senator's own platform ideas had been buried in secret committee meetings.

The storm broke with all the fury of a riot and La Follette delegates were quick to seize the psychological moment to spring their presidential boom. A big photograph of the senator, flag-draped and a huge red banner inscribed with his name were swung before the convention and the demonstration was on. It lasted about three-quarters of an hour.

Senator's Platform Blocked.

When a move was made to read the senator's platform, but it was blocked by the decision of the chairman, who ruled that the majority report of the committee on resolutions was before the convention and must be dealt with first. The La Follette platform was never brought up again, but the minority report, which was later defeated, was said by its sponsors to be acceptable to the Wisconsin solon.

The statement of George L. Record, who presented the minority report, that, if it was adopted, Senator La Follette would be willing to run on it, was challenged by Gilbert E. Roe, the senator's representative. Roe reiterated previous announcements that the senator did not desire the nomination and asked that his name be not presented.

About 200 of the committee of forty-eight delegates assembled at

Atlanta Census Shows Women Outnumber Men

Interesting Data Compiled From Census Figures Reveals 7,510 More Women Than Men in City.

Femininism is in its ascendancy in Atlanta, in other fashion than by legislative permission, according to figures recently released regarding Atlanta's recent census showing that there are 104,063 females in Atlanta as against 96,553 of the opposite sex. This difference of 7,510 shows the women to have gained in numbers since 1910, when they outnumbered Adam's ilk by only 5,837.

There are in Atlanta 119,172 white people of native parentage; 8,377 of foreign parentage, and 5,715 foreign born. Those of foreign parentage and who were born on other shores represent approximately 30 countries of the world, the statistical array giving Atlanta a thoroughly cosmopolitan atmosphere.

There are 57,685 males of voting age in Atlanta, while in 1910 there were only 44,510. Substantial growth in Atlanta's balloting strength by the year 1930 is promised in the fact that there are 55,703 persons in Atlanta of school age—between the ages of 6 and 20. For comparison with the latter figures is the situation that shows Atlanta to have 14,013 illiterates over the age of an increase of something less than 50 per cent over the 10,813 of 1910.

Negro Population 67,265.

Atlanta's negro population is given as 67,265, a substantial increase over the 51,902 of 1910., which makes the increase in colored population comport almost identically with the total increase in the city's numbers of 29.6 per cent. Other races, exclusive of white, are represented in the city's population by only 83 people.

There are 46,113 families in the city, an increase of 10,600 over the number of devotees of the institution which represented Atlanta family life in 1910.

Aside from the 154,053 persons who were born in the state of Geor-

CHARTER CHANGES GIVEN K. O. AGAIN

Charter Revision Committee Declines to Make Any Report to Council—Other Matters Discussed.

Charter changes for Atlanta received another blow Wednesday afternoon when the charter revision committee of city council following a public hearing on the proposal declined to render a report to council assuming the ground that it could offer neither a favorable nor an adverse report on a document which had never been presented to it for study.

The committee also declined to act favorably on a request of Superintendent of Schools W. F. Dykes that it recommended to council a reduction of the city's tax rate from $1.25 per $100 to $1.05, in the event the state assembly acts favorably on the proposed new bill which the board of education will ask the Fulton county delegation to introduce, giving the board independent power to levy a special school tax not exceeding 70 cents on the $100.

The committee also considered a proposed charter amendment measure designed to formally create the city planning commission and give it a legal status, and after objection to one or two of its provisions which Chairman J. R. Nutting complained would usurp some of council's functions, was referred to the chairman with instructions that he confer with Colonel W. L. Peel, chairman of the planning commission, and City Attorney James L. Mayson, who drafted the bill, for a revision before being reported to council.

On the question of recommending to council that the city democratic executive committee be requested to permit the registered voters to vote in the forthcoming primary on a charter change, Councilman A. J. Orme was strongly in favor of it. Councilman Claude Ashley wanted the committee to adopt an adverse report and Councilman J. C. Murphy wanted to defer the adoption of any report.

No proponent of charter change spoke at the hearing, but Judge George Hillyer, Attorney E. F. Childress and J. W. Rowe spoke in opposition to the new charter.

FULL VALUE URGED FOR EVERY DOLLAR OF CITY'S MONEY

Economic and Efficient Administration of Civic Affairs Promised in Harry Goodhart's Platform.

CANDIDATE ADVOCATES NEW ATLANTA CHARTER

Believes People Should Have Right to Decide. Promises Attention to Schools and Streets.

Declaring in his platform made public Wednesday night that the city of Atlanta needs a wise, economic and efficient administration of its affairs; that its schools, streets, sewers, libraries, waterworks, health and finances demand an application of modern business methods; that its people deserve the proper application of every dollar of its income and have the right to expect that each dollar raised by taxation shall yield a full dollar's return for the people, E. Harry Goodhart, candidate for mayor, promised if elected to direct his every effort toward achieving these rights for the city.

He will advocate the adoption of a new charter, asserting that "if such question comes before me as mayor, I will act upon my convictions that Atlanta is entitled to be the best governed city in America. I now unhesitatingly state to the people that upon this, as upon every other question affecting them, they should be allowed to vote."

Atlanta's School System.

Mr. Goodhart takes up each department of the city in turn and directs attention to improvements needed. The first of these is schools. He asserts that he will be largely concerned with the school system and the results being attained and declares that "every child in Atlanta should have a place in a morning session of a school. Teachers who are qualified to teach and to guide the children must be adequately compensated."

In his platform he states that the city's finances demand the earnest attention of the chief executive. "The people of Atlanta are willing to pay taxes if they know they are properly expended and Atlanta is receiving a dollar's return for every dollar invested," he says. "I shall see that the people of Atlanta do know this. I am not in favor of increasing the present normal tax rate except in cases of real emergency, nor do I believe it necessary to do so. We simply must see that our present income is properly applied."

Text of Platform.

The full text of the platform follows:

"My candidacy for mayor is based upon my knowledge that Atlanta vitally needs a wise, economic and efficient administration of its affairs. That its schools, streets, sewers, libraries, waterworks, health and finances demand an application of modern business methods. That its people deserve the proper application of every dollar of its income and have the right to expect that each dollar raised by taxation of its people shall yield a full dollar's return for the people. That the chief executive of the largest city in the southeast must measure up to the honor of his city and the responsibility of the office. If elected, I shall give all that is in me in achieving these rights for our city.

"I shall be largely concerned with our school system and the results being reached in them. Every child in Atlanta should have a place in a morning session of a school. Teachers who are qualified to teach and to guide the children must be selected and must be adequately compensated. The schools must as now be kept out of politics.

"Our waterworks system needs enlarged facilities in order to furnish pure filtered water to the citizens. This municipal utility must be always owned by the city and as one of the assets of the citizens' needs. The revenue from the waterworks should be first devoted to its own maintenance and improvement. Our trunk and smaller sewers must be extended so that the small homes of Atlanta shall receive their benefit equally with the larger homes.

Streets Must Be Paved.

"The streets must be paved and repaired and kept paved and repaired. They are among the most valuable assets of the city and their good condition will advertise us properly to Atlanta's hosts of visitors and will give Atlanta citizens the street facilities they deserve.

"The libraries must be properly supported and maintained. They are the intellectual centers of our city.

"Our parks deserve our earnest attention. They are largely the playground of our poorer people. Atlanta should have many more parks for their pleasure.

"Our finances demand the earnest attention of the city's chief officer. The people of Atlanta are willing to pay taxes if they know they are properly expended, and Atlanta is receiving a dollar's return for every dollar invested. I shall see that the people of Atlanta do know this. I am not in favor of

Memphis Firemen Will Strike Today For Higher Pay

Plans Are Under Way to Organize Volunteer Force to Meet Any Emergency.

Memphis, Tenn., July 14.—Despite the efforts of several civic organizations to adjust the situation it was stated today that no agreement was in sight which would avert the threatened walkout of city firemen here tomorrow and plans were under way to organize a volunteer fire-fighting force to meet the emergency created by the wholesale resignation of members of the department, tendered yesterday when their demands for increased wages were not granted.

Demands for an advance in wages, because of increased living costs, were presented several months ago by a committee representing the fire-fighters' union, but were not granted because of a provision of the city charter fixing salaries of the men, which, according to an opinion by the city attorney, precluded any change in wages. Yesterday the demands again were presented and the resignations filed to become effective at noon tomorrow.

It was stated that about 270 of the 300 men employed by the department quit.

J. B. Edgar, fire and police commissioner, stated today that if the men carry out their plan none will be re-employed.

COX NOTIFICATION AT TRAIL'S END

Meeting of Democratic National Committee Will Be in Columbus July 20 Instead of Dayton.

Columbus, Ohio, July 14.—Governor Cox today fired the first volley of the campaign at his republican opponent, Senator Harding, announced definitely that his official notification will be held at Trails End, Dayton, and stated that the democratic national committee would meet in Columbus July 20 instead of in Dayton, as was previously intimated.

In his official statement, in answer to Senator Harding's charge that the administration at Washington had saddled the league of nations upon him as the chief campaign issue, the governor declared that his own campaign "will be dedicated to the task of bringing about peace with honor, or readjusting the affairs of civilization and of creating a new day out of which we will make the best of the lessons of the past."

Expresses No Preference.

In connection with the selection of a permanent campaign manager, which will be one of the chief duties of the national committee when it meets here July 20, Governor Cox today would express no preference. He would not state whether E. H. Moore, his preconvention campaign manager, would accept the position, but when the name of Chairman Cummings was mentioned, he said that the national committee might insist he would be of more use in the campaign as a speaker than as a manager and decline that Mr. Cummings should take the stump.

Mrs. James Rector, of Columbus, chairman of the Ohio branch of the national woman's party, called on the governor to arrange further details of the proposed meeting of representatives of the woman's party with the governor Friday afternoon. Before conferring with the governor, Mrs. Rector intimated to newspaper representatives that the women expect to state plainly to the democratic nominee that unless he uses his influence to have another democratic state, Tennessee or North Carolina, ratify the federal suffrage amendment immediately he may incur the opposition of seventeen million women during the campaign.

Convicts Pay Visit.

Among other callers on the governor today were four life prisoners from the state penitentiary who are "trusties" and came over to the capitol without guard. They presented a memorial to the governor asking him to pay them an informal call at some Sunday morning chapel service "as upon previous occasions" and congratulating him upon his nomination. The governor said he probably would attend the chapel service at the penitentiary Sunday morning, July 25.

The memorial expressed deep appreciation for the interest the governor has taken in the prisoners, declaring the prisoners feel "you are the only governor who has the right conception of a prison, for in Ohio it is not a place of punishment; it is a home for reform."

Walter F. Brown, of Toledo, republican candidate for the senatorial nomination to succeed Senator Harding and one of the senator's floor managers at the Chicago convention, also called on the governor today to extend congratulations.

COURT TO DECIDE HOW MOTOR FUND IS TO BE SPENT

Mandamus Asked of the Clarke Superior Court to Compel County Distribution of Money From Auto Licenses.

CASE WILL BE HEARD IN ATHENS ON JULY 31

Highest Court Will Finally Decide Whether Fund Goes to Counties or Congressional Districts as Provided by Highway Law.

Athens, Ga., July 14.—(Special.) Mandamus proceedings were started in the superior court of Clarke county today by Butts, Berrien, Harralson and Henry counties against the state highway commission, of which C. M. Strahan, of Athens is chairman, to compel the commission to follow the provisions of the motor vehicle tax and license law relative to the distribution of the funds arising therefrom among the four petitioning counties, according to their proportionate parts.

The petition was signed by W. E. Watkins, C. L. Redman, J. H. Hall, E. M. Smith and John Knight, attorneys for the petitioners. Mr. Knight is the representative from Berrien county.

The act was passed by the legislature and approved August 16, 1919, and provides for the registration and license of all motor vehicles used on the roads and highways of Georgia. It further provides for a license to operate them, and also for a tax on the manufacturer of motor vehicles.

What Law Provides.

The law makes it the duty of the secretary of state to collect the tax and license fees and turn the same over to the treasury of the state to be credited to the highway commission. It provides that the commission shall distribute and cause to be expended the monies so collected in 1920 for the building and up-keep of the roads of the several counties of the state, according to their post road mileage until December 31, 1920.

The petition sets forth the fact that as nearly as is possible to ascertain, $1,769,967 has been collected and is now in the treasury from this source, and that of this amount the apportionment to the four counties should be: Butts, post road mileage 265, entitled to $11,348.80; Berrien, post road mileage 340, entitled to $14,429.60; Harralson, post road mileage 320, entitled to $13,518.80; Henry, post road mileage 418, entitled to $17,739.

The petition asks that the court grant a mandamus against the commission, C. M. Strahan, Robert C. Neeley and Stanley B. Bennett, and these parties have been summoned to appear before Judge Andrew J. Cobb, at the courthouse in Athens, July 31, for a hearing on the merits of the application.

Case Up Before.

The highway department re-organization act which was signed by the governor after the signing of the motor vehicle act and which conflicts with the motor vehicle act as to the distribution to the counties was held by Attorney General Clifford Walker to have repealed the section of the motor vehicle act which is questioned by the mandamus.

Regardless of the decision of Judge Cobb in the case the matter will be brought to the supreme court for a final adjustment.

This is the second fight that has been made on the highway law. The first was occasioned by Attorney General Denny's opinion that the act had not been constitutionally passed because a roll call had not been taken in the house and senate on the matter. The supreme court decided that it could not go behind the signature of the presiding officers of the house and senate and the governor to enquire into how the legislature passed on act.

U. S. Not Obliged To Assist Allies In Case of Fight

Relations of America and Germany Are Defined by Terms of the Armistice, It Is Pointed Out.

Washington, July 14.—America is in no way obligated to participate in any offensive measures the European allies may find it necessary to undertake against Germany to enforce the treaty of Versailles, it was said authoritatively today.

The relations of America and Germany, it was pointed out, are defined by the terms of the armistice, and there would be no occasion for military activity by this country unless the armistice were violated. The terms of the versailles treaty do not apply, because America has not ratified the treaty, it was said:

The position of the American army of occupation on the Rhine comprising some 18,000 soldiers, would have to be decided if the allied armies decide to extend their occupation of German territory. In some quarters it was considered likely the American troops would be relieved from duty should hostilities be renewed. The American force has for some time occupied an unusual position, for while French and British forces were concerned with treaty obligations, the Americans have remained near Coblenz to enforce an armistice signed a year and a half ago.

U. S. Officials Deeply Concerned.

Officials view the possible developments with deepest concern, because they hold that continued peace is essential if Europe is again to get on her feet. A new war, it is believed, would spell disaster for the entire world, as well as for the countries which have been struggling hardest to restore conditions to normal. The drain on production and the expense of maintaining large armies could have only the most serious effects, it was asserted.

The official attitude of the United States would have to be fixed should military measures be adopted. It was pointed out that when France extended her occupation, this country remained wholly passive. Moral support would be all that America would offer in a new war, it was indicated.

Officials here sympathize wholly with the allies, and express the view that the Germans are endeavoring to avoid just consequences of the war. While there has been some question in official circles about the wisdom of endeavoring to collect large indemnities from Germany, there is no division on the matter of disarmament, the delivery of coal and other questions. Coal has been the chief factor in the threatened break.

German Claim Unsound.

Officials declared the German claim that she is unable to deliver 2,000,000 tons of coal a month, as required by the peace treaty, is not suond. Much more than the 1,400,000 tons which the Germans proposed as a compromise could be sent out of the country, it was said. The statement was made further that the allies are entitled to the coal, particularly France, because of the damage to mines and to industry generally inflicted by the Germans in their invasion.

America is not, of course, participating directly in the Spa conference, because the peace treaty has not been ratified.

ASKS SURRENDER OF NUEVO LAREDO

General Gonzalez at Head of Disaffected Troops Demands Town From Government Forces—Ortego to Defend Town.

Laredo, Texas, July 14.—The federal garrison at Nuevo Laredo, the Mexican town opposite this city, is sleeping on arms tonight, following receipt of a demand for its surrender to anti-government forces.

The demand, according to Mexican Consul Saracho, was made by General Ricardo Gonzalez, who has several hundred disaffected soldiers and custom guards under his command. The demand, the consul said, met definite refusal on the part of Colonel Ortego, garrison commander at Nuevo Laredo.

Colonel Ortego declared he would defend the town to the end with the 200 loyal troops in the garrison. Saracho said he did not know the exact number of the disloyal forces, but that they included custom guards who revolted against the Carranza government at Nuevo Laredo last May. These guards, he said, had been employed in the De La Huerta government customs services up to a few days ago.

ORGANIZED LABOR BACKS PLATFORM OF DEMOCRATS

Stands More Nearly for "Human Rights" Than Does G. O. P. Platform, Says Gompers for Committee.

COMPARISON DRAWN TO MONTREAL PLANKS

Would Be Palpable Dereliction of Duty Not to Point Out Facts to the Voters, It Is Stated.

Washington, July 14.—Weighed against the specific demands of organized labor, the democratic platform adopted at San Francisco "more nearly approximated the desired declarations of human rights than do the planks found in the republican platform," Samuel Gompers, chairman of the special committee appointed by the American Federation of Labor to present labor's demands to both party conventions, said today in reporting the result of the committee's work.

With the report was made public an analysis of the labor planks in the democratic platform and comparison of these with the program adopted by the annual convention of the federation in Montreal.

"In summarizing it is but justice to say that the democratic platform marks a measure of progress not found in the platform of the republican party," the report asserted. "The men and women of labor of the United States, and her liberty-loving people must judge between the declarations of these parties.

"The impending campaign is upon us and the citizenship of our country must determine its own course in electing these candidates who are most friendly disposed toward labor, justice, freedom, democracy and to defeat those who are less friendly or most hostile to these principles.

"Labor of America is not partisan to any political party; it is partisan to principles, the principles of justice and freedom. It undertakes neither to distate nor control the choice of the workers or the citizenship generally for which party or candidates they should vote, but it would be a palpable dereliction of duty did we fail to place the facts before the voters of our country upon the records of both parties and their respective candidates for public office."

CAPITAL REMOVAL AND RENT CASES SCHEDULED TODAY

The capital removal hearing will be held in the supreme court room this afternoon at 3 o'clock if the court will agree to allow its chamber to be used for the purpose. It is to be heard before the house committee on the state of the republic.

The Atlanta side of the case will be presented by Robert Alston and J. K. Orr. It is probable that an equal division of time will be made, an hour or an hour and a half to the side. The Macon case will be presented by a committee of the legislature favoring the removal of the capital to Macon.

It was first proposed to have the hearing in the hall of the house of representatives, but this hall has been obtained for a hearing on the Mauget rent bill before house judiciary committee No. 2.

CHARLES GODFREY DIES

Was Prominent in Local Insurance Field.

Mr. Godfrey was born in Shropshire, England and attained his early business experience in Canada, coming to Atlanta thirty years ago and residing here since. He was a well-known clubman and had a wide circle of friends, not only in Atlanta, but in many parts of the nation.

Surviving him are his wife; four sisters, Mrs. C. F. Leake and Misses Jessie, Maud and Ethel Godfrey; and two brothers, Percy and Harold Godfrey, of Shropshire, England. Funeral arrangements have not yet been announced.

ALLIES PREPARE TO OCCUPY RUHR AS GERMANS BALK

United States Will Be Asked to Join in the Occupation Unless Germany Accedes to Demands of Allied Nations.

DELIVERY OF COAL CAUSES DIFFICULTY

Germans Have Until Noon Today to Reply to Ultimatum Requiring Delivery of 2,000,000 Tons Per Month.

By A. E. JOHNSON.

Spa, July 14.—An open break between the allies and Germany is imminent. At 10 o'clock tonight the Germans declared that a rupture was almost certain, and were preparing to leave.

Neither side is able to back down without admitting that it has been bluffing.

Von Simons, after a short conference with Lloyd-George, declared that the situation was discouraging.

It is significant that no communique has been issued after a two-hour conference tonight, in which the British, French, Italian and Belgian premiers, with several of the military experts, participated.

TO ASK AMERICA TO JOIN MOVEMENT.

Spa, Belgium, July 14.—(By the Associated Press.)—The American government will be asked by the supreme council to join in the occupation of the Ruhr district unless the Germans accede to the demand for 2,000,000 tons of coal per month.

All details have been arranged for the movement of troops.

The German delegation will be requested to meet the allies at noon tomorrow. The Germans will then be asked if they will give two million tons. If they reply in the negative, they will be informed that the Ruhr will be occupied Friday.

This was a day of tense emotions among the delegates to the conference though outwardly all was calm. The day passed without official communication between the Germans and allies except for an informal meeting between Premier Lloyd-George and Dr. Simons, the German foreign secretary.

While the allied premiers were meeting at Villa Fraineuse, the Germans held a series of cabinet meetings at Chancellor Fehrenbach's villa. Efforts were made during the day to resume contact. Dr. Simons asked Mr. Lloyd-George to receive him, and the British prime minister consented after consulting with the French premier M. Millerand.

Go No Further.

The German secretary had an hour's plain talk with Mr. Lloyd-George who again told him frankly that the allies would go no further than they had already done in reducing the terms of coal delivery, namely 2,000,000 tons monthly.

Dr. Simons repeated his contention that it was impossible for Germany to deliver the amount demanded.

After conferring with Premier Lloyd-George, he said that what the allies were insisting upon "means for my country either civil war or invasion."

On his return to the Fehrenbach villa, the foreign secretary talked for a long time with the chancellor, after which the chancellor called a meeting of the cabinet. The meeting was described as extremely animated, with wide differences of opinion.

At 10 o'clock tonight the German cabinet was holding its third meeting of the day. One of the principal and most influential of the German experts said the situation was grave, and that it looked as though the allies would occupy the Ruhr.

If the occupation of the Ruhr takes place it will be carried out by six divisions, three French, two British and one Belgian. Every military preparation has been made to this end.

Foch on Ground.

Field Marshal Sir Henry H. Wilson, chief of the imperial British staff arrived here tonight. Marshal Foch of France is also on the ground.

The members of the German cabinet here held a meeting this afternoon. Dr. Walter Simons, the foreign minister, just before going into the meeting said:

"Germany is between civil war and invasion."

Premier Lloyd-George received Dr. Walter Simons, the German foreign minister, at the latter's request this afternoon and told him emphatically the allies were not bluffing.

The allies, Mr. Lloyd-George declared, intended seriously to take measures for enforcement of execution of the Versailles treaty unless the Germans meet the allies' modified terms regarding coal.

In an effort to compose the differences between the Germans and the allies over the question of coal deliveries by Germany and prevent a break-up of the conference here, a series of informal conferences was held early tis afternoon.

Neither Side Yields.

Following a brief talk which Dr. Walter Simons, the German foreign minister, had with Sir Philip Kerr, secretary to Premier Lloyd-George, it was stated that conferences looking to this end would be held, beginning with one between the British premier and the German foreign minister at Mr. Lloyd-George's hotel, to be followed by a meeting between Premier Lloyd-George and Premier Millerand of France.

No disposition was shown by Chancellor Fehrenbach and Foreign Minister Simons this morning to yield to the allies on the question of coal deliveries.

"The German delegation regrets that the conference may be dissolved without further agreement," said Dr. Simons to the correspondent, "but we have done as much as we could, and await the action of the allies."

The allied ministers appear equally firm in their decision that Germany shall deliver 2,000,000 tons of coal monthly.

Marshal Foch and General Weygand, his assistant, arrived here from Paris at 3:30 o'clock this morning and, with the entire French delegation, called on Premier Millerand to present their respects on the occasion of the French national holiday. Later the delegates held a consultation before going to the conference.

Chancellor Fehrenbach and Dr. Simons suggested to the allied governments that they send a commission, composed of ministers and experts, to Essen to meet workingmen and their representaitves for the purpose of talking over the urgency of increasing coal production. This proposal was made yesterday afternoon, but the premiers have not replied as yet.

Dr. Simons explained to him his idea was this could be done immediately and the work of the commission be completed quickly, not taking more than three or four days. The allied ministers, however, do not appear disposed to enter into direct negotiations with the German mining unions.

SUFFRAGE ENABLING ACTS ARE FAVORED

Senator Elders Believes the Measures Will Be Passed by the Senate.

Both of the enabling acts to become effective in the event the Susan B. Anthony national suffrage amendment is ratified by one more state were recommended unanimously to pass by the senate committee on privileges and elections Wednesday afternoon.

The bills were introduced in the senate a few days ago by Senators Elders, of the second; Pittman, of the forty-second; Glenn, of the forty-third, and Dorris, of the forty-eighth, and provide for machinery by which women may vote in Georgia in the event of ratification of the nineteenth amendment, and are not effective until this amendment is ratified by thirty-six states.

The first of the bills gives them the right to vote in all regular elections in the state and the second allows them to vote in all primary elections. They are permitted to vote in the coming September primary by a provision which gets around the six months' registration law of the state. This is done by stating that they may vote in this primary by simply paying the $1 poll tax any time before the election and swearing that they are 21 years old.

Bills Affecting University.

The University of Georgia committee of the senate reported favorably on two bills affecting the university. The first of these is by Senator Reynolds, of the fortieth, and makes Franklin college, which is the academic department of the university at Athens, co-educational. Females are to be admitted under the same regulations which govern male students.

The other bill repeals an act authorizing the chairman of the board of trustees of the University of Georgia to appoint members of the board to act as members of the boards of the various branch institutions of the state university. There was no fight upon this bill, but it is understood that Chancellor Barrow will request that the bill be recommitted in order that he may be heard on it.

VANGUARD OF SCOUTS GO TO CAMP FRIENDLY

All preliminary details for the opening of Camp Friendly, the camp of the Atlanta Boy Scouts, Saturday, are being made by Roland L. Shine, assistant scout executive and five Boy Scouts, who left Atlanta early Wednesday morning for the camp, which is located on Lake McCrary, near Marietta, Ga. They carried a truck loaded with equipment and supplies.

The formal opening will be attended by sixty scouts, who will leave Saturday in motor trucks furnished by Camp Jessup.

ACTION IS DEFERRED ON PIEDMONT CIRCUIT

The house special judiciary committee Wednesday afternoon deferred action upon a bill by Messrs. DuBose and Brown, of Clarke, which provided for a new judicial circuit to be known as the Piedmont circuit. This bill, which was introduced last week in the house by the Clarke delegation, developed strong opposition before the special judiciary committee, and in view of this fact it was agreed to defer action upon the measure for the present.

SUFFRAGE CREDIT CLAIMED FOR G.O.P.

Harding Issues Statement on "Persistent Misrepresentation" Along This Line of Republican Party

Marion, Ohio, July 14.—Senator Harding in a statement tonight resented what he characterized as "persistent misrepresentations" of the republican party's attitude toward woman suffrage and said to his party belonged the credit for that reform ever having a chance of success.

He deplored, however, efforts to make political capital out of the situation and said he hoped ratification would be accomplished before November, no matter whether a democratic or republican state was the thirty-sixth to approve the suffrage amendment.

"Even if a democratic state shall finish the business, the record will still show that twenty-nine republican and seven democratic states made up the roll of honor" Senator Harding said. "That is good enough for us."

"My patience is solely tested sometimes over the persistent misrepresentations of the republican party, its state governors and legislatures in this matter of woman suffrage.

Asks Fair Treatment.

"Whether it emanates from mere mischief-makers, or from partisan desires, I cannot help resenting it. We must insist on having fair treatment of the party without whose persistent support the great reform would never have had a chance of success.

"A republican senate and a republican house submitted the constitutional amendment for equal suffrage. A democratic senate had previously refused to submit it. Twenty-nine republican and six democratic states have ratified it.

"Six democratic states have rejected the ratification resolution, and another, Louisiana, has just refused to give it consideration. One republican state—just one, Delaware—has rejected it. The first eight states to ratify were republican states.

When in 1919 the republican senate finally mustered the necessary majority to submit the amendment there were thirty-six republican and only twenty democratic senators voting for it, but there were seventeen democratic and only eight republican senators voting against it.

Have Much Audacity.

"Whether in the senate or house, in congress or state legislatures, the record shows that the republicans have been the persistent and effective supporters of this measure. In such circumstances—circumstances that are thoroughly familiar to everybody—it is simply amazing that democratic managers should now have the audacity to be assuming that they are the friends on om the cause must depend if it ucceed.

myself and for the republ- party, I earnestly desire that ation may be accomplished time to give the whole body of American women the ballot next November. I am wearied with efforts to make partisan advantage out of this situation. I hope there will be ratification, and I do not care a fig whether it is secured through a republican or a democratic state. I will rejoice if North Carolina will do it, or if Tennessee will do it, just as I would rejoice if a republican state did it.

"There will be glory enough for the republican party no matter whether the thirty-sixth state is republican or not. If any word of mine could possibly be influential with any republicans in the North Carolina legislature, the word would be 'vote for ratification and dont' worry about who gets the credit of putting it over.'"

Why Be Skinny?

It's Easy to Be Plump, Popular and Attractive

It's easy to be plump, popular and attractive instead of being thin, angular and scrawny. Almost invariably the trouble is due to weak nerves and consequent failure to assimilate your food. You may eat heartily, but owing to the lack of nervous energy and impoverished blood you don't get the benefit from the food you eat. All of this can be remedied very quickly by taking with each meal a five-grain tablet of Blood-Iron Phosphate. This quickly strengthens the nervous system, enriches the blood and increases its oxygen-carrying power, and in a remarkably short time the average thin, weak, nervous man or woman begins not only to put on flesh, but also begins to look and feel better. Sleep, appetite, strength and endurance are improved, dull eyes become bright, and, unless afflicted with some organic complaint, there is no reason why, if you take Blood-Iron Phosphate regularly, you should not soon look and feel much better and many years younger. Deposit $1.50 today with Jacobs' Pharmacy Co. or any other druggist for enough Blood-Iron Phosphate for a three weeks' treatment. Use as directed and if at the end of three weeks you aren't delighted go back and get your money. Your druggist, a man you know, is authorized to give it to you.—(adv.)

CONTRACTS BROKEN, RICE STOCKS SWELL

The Cuban Importers Make Wholesale Repudiation of Agreements.

Washington, July 14.—Failure of Cuban importers to carry out contracts for purchase of rice from American shippers has resulted in the accumulation of more than 100,000 tons of rice, valued at $30,000,000, on ships or in warehouses at Havana, Robert H. Patchin, representing the California Rice association, told the recent conference of government officials and representatives of shipping interests called to consider relief of shipping congestion in Havana harbor.

The report of the conference, made public today by the department of commerce, quotes Mr. Patchin as saying that failure of the importers to carry out their purchase agreements apparently was due to a decline of 40 per cent in the price of rice in the last six weeks.

Chauncey D. Snow, representing the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, urged that the Cuban government be asked to prevent such wholesale repudiation of contracts.

The conference also was informed, the report asserts, that the Cuban government had announced "excessive" demurrage charges on the stored shipments of unpurchased rice to take effect after a certain period.

A special committee was decided on by the conference to take up this question and others relating to congestion of shipping at Havana with the Cuban authorities.

Reported Drowned, Bell Is Located In Florida Town

Savannah, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—W. J. Beall, whose clothing was found on the Tybee Beach same weeks ago and who was reported to have been probably drowned, the case, however, ending in mystery, has been located according to a report by insurance company investigators alive and well and working as a furniture salesman under the name of W. J. Bell, in Tampa, Fla.

According to the insurance sleuths the whole matter was one of clumsy attempt to produce the evidence of death by accident. Beall, or Bell, came here from Maysville, Ga., where his parents live. His father came here to investigate the supposed drowning. Later insurance officials stated policies were presented by the alleged widow of the young man for collection, one for $10,000, and another for $2,000, both with double indemnity clauses in case of accidental death. The supposed dead man left a trail a mile wide by which he could be traced, says the representative of the insurance companies. He left on the beach a shirt that had never been worn. It even had the little bone button in the neck the makers put there. The starch on the cuffs hadn't been disturbed, state the insurance men. Beall went from Savannah to Jacksonville, where he had formerly been employed, and then went to Tampa, where he got the job he now holds.

It is not believed there will be any prosecution of the man for his alleged effort to join the great majority through the route of fiction and deception. He left a wife and children with his father at Maysville.

REVIVAL SERVICE ENDS AT WESLEY MEMORIAL

Last night the revival meetings which have been in progress at Wesley Memorial church were brought to a close with a large congregation in attendance. Rev. Charlie M. Dunaway preached an awakening sermon directing his words specifically to the unconverted, and made one of his most earnest appeals to them to repent of all their sins and seek God's pardoning favor. Many responded to his call to come to the altar. Wednesday morning he preached on "How to Receive the Gift of the Holy Spirit." Mr. Dunaway, with Mr. Sewell, his singer, leaves in a few days for Louisiana to fill an engagement of two years' standing to preach at two camp meetings.

REV. J. W. HAM TO TALK AT TOKIO CONVENTION

An invitation has been accepted by Rev. J. W. Ham, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle of Atlanta, to speak at the World Sunday school convention to be held in Tokio, Japan, on October 10. He will speak on the subject of "Evangelization." Mr. and Mrs. Ham will make a tour of the Orient, leaving Atlanta August 10.

They will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Rainey, of the Fairview road. The party has secured reservations on the Empress of Russia for the ocean voyage and applied for passports. The ship will sail from San Francisco September 21. The Atlantans will visit the Philippines and China before going to Japan.

CROSS IS PERMITTED TO RETURN TO MACON

Macon, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—H. Lee Cross, convicted of the murder of J. Frank Hodges and now confined at the state farm, will be permitted to come to Macon to tranact some business, but he will have to remain in the Bibb county jail while here, Governor Dorsey having acted favorably on the recommendation of the prison commission to permit Cross to return.

Cross had asked to be permitted to spend a week at his home under guard, but the governor declined to permit him to remain away from the jail. Indications are Cross will not return under the conditions laid down by the governor, because the confinement at the Bibb county jail was his reason for asking to be transferred to the state farm pending the outcome of his appeal for a new trial, it being claimed his health was being menaced. His motion for a new trial will be argued before the supreme court July 19.

Not Case of Plague.

Dothan, Ala., July 14.—Alabama health officers investigating a suspicious case of illness here today, announced it was hot a case of bubonic plague as was feared. The case suspected of being plague originated at Panama City, Fla., and a specialist from the state department of health pronounced it an acute stomach trouble.

NECESSITY IS SHOWN OF TAX REFORM ACT

Hopes of Educational Institutions Depend Upon Success of Measure.

Unless the legislature this year passes the tax reform act, asked for by Governor Dorsey and favored by the speaker of the house, there is little hope of the educational institutions having their requests for appropriations honored this year.

The subcommittee of the house appropriations committee held a meeting Wednesday afternoon to consider the various demands made by the institutions. It was decided that, owing to the state of the treasury, the requests must be classified as necessary, avoidable and possible to be postponed.

If the legislature puts up to the people the constitutional amendment proposed by Mr. Arnold and favored by the governor it will be possible to call an extra session of the general assembly in December which can levy the taxes necessary to meet the appropriations demanded by the various institutions next year. Otherwise, they cannot be provided for. That seemed to be the sentiment of the subcommittee.

The whole appropriation committee held a meeting to give a hearing to the friends of Bowden college. W. D. Whatley, H. J. Reeves, Senator E. J. Stead, of Carrollton, and former Representative I. H. J. Beck appeared for the college. Its representatives are asking for $20,000 for maintenance and $50,000 for a dormitory. After hearing from the various representatives the committee took the matter under consideration.

Treasury Hard Hit By Soaring Prices, Macon to Use Knife

Macon, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—The High Cost of Living has hit the city of Macon, and as a result the pruning knife is to be applied to several departments in an effort to bring the expenditures somewhere near the available revenue. Thirty days' notice has been given to the director of playgrounds, the four nurses employed by the health department and the Macon Illiteracy commission that their appropriations will be discontinued after that time. In addition the mayor and council now have under consideration the curtailment of the work of the street department to about half what is now being expended. Other means of curtailing expenses are also under consideration.

The finances of the city are said to be in a deplorable state despite the fact that tax assessments have been increased this year about 20 per cent and the receipts from license taxes are far in excess of what they have ever been before. Increased wages for city employees and the ever-increasing cost of supplies have more than eaten up the revenue and the mayor and council have already borrowed $150,000 to meet running expenses.

HARDWICK SPEAKS AT BARNESVILLE

Barnesville, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—An address here today delivered by Thomas W. Hardwick, candidate for governor of Georgia, was featured by an attempt to justify himself for having appeared as attorney for Ludwig Martens, self-styled soviet ambassador to the United States. In addition, he paid his respects to Clifford Walker, also a candidate for the office of governor, and who has denounced Hardwick for having defended the representative of the Russian "reds" in deportation proceedings conducted by the immigratino atuhorities at Ellis Island.

Hardwick also launched into a bitter attack on President Wilson and the democratic administration, as well as Clark, Howell, Pleasant Stovall, Ogden Persons and others. The entire address was an appeal for support of the Watson element, of which the audience was almost entirely composed.

Griffin, Ga., July 14.—(Special.) After the scheduled Hardwick meeting here tonight had been postponed on account of the lack of previous arrangements, a crowd of 150 were gathered together at the courthouse tonight, where the meeting proceeded.

Senator J. J. Flynt opened the meeting with an introduction of Mr. Hardwick, who delivered an address in which he arraigned the federal administration and President Wilson, Senator Harris and the league of nations. The audience was somewhat apathetic and little sympathy with the speaker was demonstrated, many of his hearers apparently being present out of curiosity.

Folkston School Exam.

Waycross, Ga., July 10.—(Special.) An inspection of the public schools of Folkston has been made by J. S. Stewart, state high school inspector, and the report is very gratifying to citizens of Charlton county. The inspector seemed to be highly pleased with the standing of the school, which has made much progress in the past year. He particularly complimented the severity of the examinations and the work done by the graduates of the school.

Mme. Melba, singing into a wireless telephone aboard a ship within 1,000 miles of the European continent, English, French and Italian airs, was heard with crystal-like clarity in Paris, London, Rome, Madrid, Berlin, Stockholm, War saw and other capitals.

SPRING! Spring in the Somber Northland. The hard, brilliant radiance of a winter sun slowly gives way to a warmth that penetrates the frozen earth. Rivers and streams commence their song of gladness as the ice shackles which bound them break. Along the trap lines the Trapper gathers up his belongings, caches his traps and packs his furs. The rivers become alive with those gallant adventurers of the North paddling frantically to be first at the Home Station, calling genial challenges to each other, laughing and shouting the songs of the Voyageurs of a hundred years ago when the Hudson Bay Company ruled the Northland with an iron hand. It is Spring and the fur of the Mink, the Marten, the Silver Fox, all the fur-bearing animals of the lands of WINTER are being hurried to the Trading Post.

From the South, our own domain, the skilled buyers of Fur are hastening North to take the PICK OF THE TRAPS, bringing these furs with great care to the hands of the most skillful FURRIERS the world knows.

Then comes the process of curing, of cutting and creating gorgeous garments of FUR which conform in every way to the dictates of Dame Fashion for this particular season.

It is a far cry from the trap line to ATLANTA, from the rivers of the Northland to the Heart of Dixie. But Fashion and womankind must be served and for them a thousand men have endured the rigors of winter, another thousand have worked with infinite care and skill to produce these wonderful things pictured below.

This is the first intimation of authentic Fall and Winter Fashions in Furs. Each smart wrap, coat or neckpiece carries that air of smart correctness so appreciated by discriminating followers of the Mode. And the prices are decidedly advantageous, representing a saving of a third, and in many cases more, from the prices which will prevail in the Fall.

Muffs and Scarfs:---

The prices here also represent savings of a Third and more from the prices which will prevail for Fall.

Lynx Scarf, Black	$110.00 to $145.00

COL. TINLEY HEADS RAINBOW VETERANS

Convention Adjourns After Selecting Cleveland for Meeting Next Year.

Birmingham, Ala., July 14.—Colonel Matthew A. Tinley, of Council Bluffs, Iowa, commander of the One Hundred and Sixty-eighth Iowa regiment in the world war, was elected president of the Rainbow veterans' association, at its first reunion here today.

Cleveland, Ohio, was selected as the next convention city.

Other officers are: Colonel W. P. Screws, Montgomery, Ala., honorary president; Colonel W. E. Talbot, Texas, first vice president; Major R. A. Meade, Illinois, second vice president; Sergeant John Hirsching, California, third vice president; A. G. Brown, Ohio, secretary; Colonel George Leach, Minnesota, treasurer; Rev. Father Francis P. Duffy, New York, chaplain.

Although the election of officers and the naming of the next convention city were the principal features of the final session, the veterans seemed particularly interested in the parade that followed.

Fifteen hundred delegates and members of the association, with many civic organizations, took part in the big procession, which passed through the center of the city shortly after noon. Uniforms were few, most of the delegates being attired in their civilian clothes and carrying small American flags. The marchers passed over a large new bridge spanning railroad tracks in the wholesale business section and named "Rainbow Viaduct" in honor of the division.

Thousands witnessed the parade which was one of the largest in the history of the city.

After an hour's march through flag-bedecked streets the delegates arrived at Woodrow Wilson park, where they enjoyed a watermelon feast and picnic lunch, with which the reunion was brought to a close.

MACON TO HAVE TWO WOMEN LAWYERS

Macon, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—Within a few days Macon will have two women lawyers, announcement having been made that Mrs. Viola R. Napier, widow, of Hendley V. Napier, who for many years was a prominent member of the Macon Bar association, has passed a successful examination and will be given a license to practice. Mrs. Napier began the study of law shortly after the death of her husband and she is said to have made an unusually high mark in her examination before Judge H. A. Mathews.

Mrs. W. E. Jackson graduated from Mercer law school last year and has been actively practicing law in the local courts since that time, having appeared in the defense of a number of persons charged with crime.

SHOWED WILL OF KING IN 1915, SAYS MEANS

Chicago, July 14.—John R. Rathom, editor of The Providence Journal, will be an important witness for Mrs. Mary C. Melvin, who with the aid of Gaston Means is fighting to prove the validity of the alleged second will of James C. King, most of whose estate, now valued at $5,000,000, will become Mrs. Melvin's property, if the will is held genuine, counsel for Means announced today. They petitioned Circuit Judge Baldwin to permit Mr. Rathom to make a deposition that Means showed him the contested will in October or November, 1915. Judge Baldwin consented.

It is the contention of the Northern Trust company, trustee of the estate, that Means, before he showed the will to any one, made a prolonged and thorough investigation of King's life.

"He showed the will to Rathom in 1915," Mrs. Melvin's attorneys declared, "shortly after he found it and asked Mr. Rathom to have it photographed because he wanted to send photographs to various typewriter manufacturers to determine what typewriter was used in writing the will.

"The investigation was made to get evidence to prove the genuineness of the will."

Madame Henri Raguin, one of France's large list of heroic nurses who worked valiantly during the entire world war, and Lieutenant Robert Fletcher, American hero, who had both legs shattered in the Champagne sector in October of 1918—honored guests of the Emory base hospital unit at their reunion and barbecue next Saturday afternoon at the country home of Dr. E. C. Davis, former commandant of the organization.

Two honored guests at the reunion of the Emory unit Saturday afternoon will be Madame Henri Raguin, of France, who won lasting renown as a nurse in the recent war, and Lieutenant Robert S. Fletcher, American hero, who wears the distinguished service cross and the French croix de guerre, and is loved by the entire unit for the grit he showed as their prize patient of overseas.

Mme. Raguin was stationed in Blois, the French location of the Atlanta base hospital organization, and has come to American primarily to renew the acquaintances made with the members of that body during her stay there. Lieutenant Fletcher underwent eight operations with the result that his life was finally saved, although he is left with both legs amputated just below the waist. Both of the unit's guests of honor are staying with Dr. and Mrs. Fred G. Hodgson during their Atlanta sojourn.

In delivering the regards of Mme. Raguin to Atlanta—she does not speak English—Dr. Hodgson made interesting addenda of his own to the effect that she was one of the few who learned the skilled use of the Carrel-Dakon solution in antiseptic treatment of wounds. Mme. Raguin has visited in New York, Washington and Albany, and after leaving Atlanta expects to go to Chicago and to San Francisco.

Lieutenant Fletcher modestly prefers to talk about the comfort of the "flivver" on which he sits and propels himself by hand-power rather than his exploits during the war, but it was learned that he won his awards for gallantry through valiant service with the 142d infantry, an organization of the thirty-sixth division, of Texas, from which state the officer hails. The lieutenant is now on a two weeks' leave from the Walter Reed hospital, and will visit his home folks in Plainview, Texas, after his stay in Atlanta.

"Ziron Did Us Both Good," Writes Mr. Gentry, of Norene, Tenn.

IT is a well-known medical fact that iron is a necessary constituent of the blood, and that blood lacking iron is the cause of many troubles that only iron will cure.

Ziron, a scientific compound of iron with other valuable ingredients, is the remedy to take when your blood needs more iron, and your system requires a tonic. Ziron is mild and harmless, does not stain the teeth and is good for children as well as adults.

Mr. P. G. Gentry, of Norene, Tenn., writes: "Ziron Iron Tonic has made good in my family. I have used it to a very great advantage to myself and my 14-year-old boy. It did us both good. I think it is a good medicine for what it is recommended."

If you are pale, weak, tired, feel down and out, take Ziron. It will put iron into your blood, and should help build you up.

Get a bottle from your druggist today, and give ZIRON a fair trial. Sold by him under a money-back guarantee.

LAMAR COUNTY PASSES IN SENATE WEDNESDAY

Vote Will Be Taken on the Workman's Compensation Act Next Wednesday.

Creation of the new county of Lamar was authorized in a bill passed by the senate Wednesday morning by a 37-to-8 vote. Senators Elders, of the Second; Glenn, of the Forty-third, and LeSueur, of the Twenty-third, were the authors of the measure.

The new county is to be cut out of sections of Pike and Monroe counties and have Barnesville for its county site. No discussion at all was precipitated in the senate when the measure came up for passage beyond a short explanation of its provisions by Senator LeSueur.

Another new county to be called Brantley would be created under the provisions of a bill introduced Wednesday by Senator Larkins, of the Forty-sixth, and others. It would be taken from portions of the counties of Tift, Wayne and Charlton and would have Hoboken as its county site.

Compensation Act.

The workman's compenstion act introduced last session by Senator Jet Bowden, came up for passage and was read the third time, but atcion was postponed until next Wednesday in order that 300 copies of it might be printed and distributed so as to allow the senators to more fully understand its provisions.

The measure is framed to prevent industrial accidents; to provide medical and surgical care for injured employees; to establish rates for compensation for personal injuries or deaths sustained by employees in the course of employment; to provide methods for insuring the payment of such compensation; to create an industrial commission for the administration of the act and prescribe the powers and duties of the commission. It bears the indorsement of the employers and employees of the state as well as the insurance companies.

The resolution, which was recently passed by the house authorizing the appointment of a commission to investigate the office of Peter F. Bahnsen, state veterinarian, was passed by the senate unanimously. The resolution followed charges that Dr. Bahnsen had used his office for personal profit.

Eugenics Bill Reconsidered.

Upon Senator Pittman's motion the bill by Senator Wood requiring all male applicants for marriage licenses to obtain health certificates showing them free of disease, was reconsidered by a vote of 18 to 15. The measure was killed by the senate Tuesday and the reconsideration places it back on the calendar.

The second of Senator Wilkinson's bills regulating the sale of fertilizer followed the fate of its predecessor and was killed. The bill sought to increase the hydrate ingredients of commercial fertilizers from 1.65 to 2 per cent.

Senator J. J. Flynt introduced a resolution asking that the house bill refusing to ratify the Susan B. Anthony national amendment be set as a special order for next Tuesday. His resolution was referred to the rules committee for action at their next meeting.

A number of local house bills were passed by the senate, among which was the bill validating the bonds of the town of Kirkwood and a bill increasing the salary of the treasurer of Fulton county to $5,000 a year.

Big Liquor Theft.

Perth Amboy, N. J., July 14.—One hundred and thirty cases of whisky valued at $13,000, which had been seized in federal raids but subsequently ordered returned to the owners by the court, were stolen from a government warehouse here today.

FRANCES WILLARD DAY FOR GEORGIA PLAN IS DEFEATED

The educational committee of the house Wednesday afternoon reported adversely upon a bill by Mr. Covington, of Colquitt, and Mr. Sibley, of Greene, providing for a Frances Willard day for the state of Georgia. It was agreed among the committeemen that Georgia has enough memorial days and holidays at present, and they declined to set aside a day to be kept in memory of the great woman temperance leader.

A bill by Mr. Johnson, of Bartow, to provide for the co-operation of the state with the act of congress for the promotion of vocational rehabilitation of persons disabled in industry, or otherwise, and their return to employment, was favorably reported by the education committee. This bill carries with it an appropriation of $21,000 to match the government fund.

A bill by Mr. Strozier, of Bibb, to permit county commissioners and ordinaries to provide schools for the instruction of illiterates in elementary English, and to empower the county commissioners to levy a tax for the support of same, was favorably reported by the education committee.

An act by Mr. Alfriend, of Baldwin, designed to remove the limited amount of mills that may be levied for the purpose of paying interest on, and providing for the retirement of bonds issued by school districts, consolidated districts or counties, was also favorably reported by the committee.

A large proportion of the usurers who lend money in the poorer London districts are women.

Keep Your Blood Pure If You Expect Good Health

Rich, Red Blood Is Essential to Your Well-Being.

You can not overestimate the importance of keeping the blood free of impurities. When you realize that the heart is constantly pumping this vital fluid to all parts of the body, you can readily see that any impurity in the blood will cause serious complications.

Any slight disorder or impurities is a source of danger, as every vital organ of the body depends upon the blood supply to properly perform its functions.

Many painful and dangerous diseases are the direct result of a bad condition of the blood. Among the most serious are Rheumatism, with its torturing pain; Eczema, Tetter, Erysipelas and other disfiguring skin diseases; general debility, which makes the strongest men helpless, and many other diseases are the direct result of impure blood.

You can in a large measure avoid liability to disease, by the use of S. S. S., the wonderful blood remedy that has been in constant use for more than fifty years. S. S. S. cleanses the blood thoroughly. It is sold by druggists everywhere.

CALOMEL DANGER TOLD BY DODSON

Says You Cannot Gripe, Sicken, or Salivate Yourself if You Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone, which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—(adv.)

UNION HEADS DISCUSS FIGHT FOR OPEN SHOP

Labor Unions Menaced Unless Prompt Action Taken, Says Bradley.

The menace of the open shop program to labor unions, unless drastic action is immediately taken to counteract the influence, was voiced Wednesday night at the meeting of the Atlanta Federation of Trades by R. L. Bradley, of the ironworkers' local, who said that contractors would be dictating scales of wages and hours within the next twelve months unless vigorous counter steps were taken.

Mr. Bradley's talk emphasized particularly the situation of the building trades, which he said faced a more precarious condition than other crafts. He also stated that Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, in charge of building trades, had declared that there was now in New York a fund of $5,000,000 which was to be devoted to the cause of the open shop.

In his inaugural address, W. C. Carraway, who was installed as president, said that he was ready to "face the music" of the open shop fight, which he realized was imminent. Mr. Carraway's talk indicated an intention of constructive administration, and indorsed movements for more and better schools, application to solution of the housing problem, and perpetuation of the recently established public market.

The mayoralty race was referred to by J. M. Zuber, who said that the interests who were favoring the open shop had put forward their candidate for the office of mayor, and would undoubtedly follow that action with nominations for councilmen who would support the movement against the closed shop program.

The open shop matter came into discussion when Andy McElroy stated that the Massell company had laid off a great number of bricklayers recently, telling them that they must come back to work on the employers' conditions or not at all.

George F. Haney, past president of the federation, presided, and after the installation of officers by President Rauol, of the state organization, turned the gavel over to Mr. Carraway.

Other officers installed Wednesday night, with the crafts they represent, follow: Vice presidents, Mrs. M. E. Sewell, garment workers; Andy McElroy, stonecutters; E. L. Quinn, machinists, and W. P. McDonald, carpenters. Secretary and treasurer, Carl Karsten, musicians; recording secretary, Louie P. Marquardt, tailors; financial secretaries, Fred Ehlers, machinists; Paul Donehoo, musicians; J. A. Alleyne, pressmen. Trustees, J. A. Miller, barbers; W. W. Wheeler, meat cutters; L. O. Reagan, carpenters, and William H. Pierce, barbers.

increasing the present normal tax rate except in cases of real emergency nor do I believe it necessary to do so. We simply must see that our present income is properly applied.

"The police, fire and sanitary departments must be maintained in the highest efficiency in order that the lives, property and the health of our people is fully protected.

"Our legal department should and will have my active support.

"Every other department will receive my active co-operation.

"I want Atlanta to get the best there is out of each department and through co-operative efforts of all departments.

"As mayor I shall represent the interests of all her citizens.

Wants New Industries.

"I shall encourage the location of new industries here and shall exert my efforts to protect industries now established. Every man and every industry shall be treated as a component part of Atlanta to the end that all may unite in furthering Atlanta's growth.

"I shall equally encourage the efforts and plans of those citizens who are employed in Atlanta's industries and who as Atlanta citizens are vitally interested in her government.

"I shall at all times protect fully and adequately the interests of the city first in her dealings with any and all of her citizens and shall demand that the interests of the city be the first consideration of her citizens.

"I advocate the adoption of a new charter for Atlanta. If such question comes before me as mayor, I will act upon my convictions that Atlanta is entitled to be the best governed city in America. I now unhesitatingly state to the people that upon this as upon every other question affecting them they should be allowed to vote.

"I am delighted that the women of Atlanta are to vote in the primary. Their interests entitle them to an expression of their choice of officers.

"In conclusion I express my confidence and my conviction that they will give to Atlanta that kind of administration and those kind of officers that Atlanta deserves and will back me in my earnest efforts to have united all of Atlanta's people who unitedly will strive to revive and revivify that spirit which has made Atlanta."

Harrington's Statement.

W. Eugene Harrington, chairman of the campaign committee of fifty Atlanta citizens chosen Wednesday morning to further his candidacy, issued a signed statement Wednesday night in which he had the following to say of Mr. Goodhart's candidacy:

Mr. Goodhart is going to be elected mayor on the principles announced in his platform. His race will appeal to those men and women who make up Atlanta's citizenry. He will represent all of the people all of the time and will faithfully guard Atlanta's interests. He will be a mayor whose progressive administration will build up and not tear down. His race will be made in the open light. The pepole will know how he stands on every issue affecting Atlanta.

I want everybody to know that there will be no mud slinging. He will be elected in a clean campaign that will spell victory.

W. EUGENE HARRINGTON,
Chairman Campaign Committee.

There will be a meeting of the general campaign committee today at 12 o'clock at headquarters, 101 and 102 Kimball house when further vigorous steps in the campaign will be taken.

General Committee.

The general committee to conduct the campaign, of which Eugene Harrington was named chairman, is composed of the following well-known citizens:

Mell Wilkinson, J. K. Orr, W. L. Peel, W. R. Read, Charles W. Bernhardt, O. T. Camp, Wilmer L. Moore, V. H. Kriegshaber, J. F. Trazzare, Thomas K. Glenn, H. S. Collinsworth, E. R. Black, F. J. Paxon, Fred Houser, Julian Boehm, W. Tom Winn, Dave W. Webb, George F. Eubanks, Robert E. Harvey, A. M. Schoen, W. P. Baker, H. Warner Martin, G. Arthur Howell, Isaac Lipstein, J. Oscar Mills, C. W. McClure, W. W. Waites, Ben D. Watkins, R. K. Rambo, E. M. Horine, Charles T. Nunnally, W. E. Harrington, F. M. Inman, Ivan E. Allen, George E. Watts, H. P. Hermance, W. O. Foote, W. H. White, Jr., John E. Murphy, Edgar A. Neely, Jesse Armistead, Meyer Regenstein, Eugene Oberdorfer, Bayne Gibson, F. E. Coffer, W. M. Brooke, Jules Fisher, Edwin F. Johnson, Frank Lowenstein, J. E. C. Pedder, I. N. Ragsdale, T. H. Daniel, W. B. McCullough, C. C. Baggs, Lucien L. York, Charles T. Nunnally, H. H. Schand.

A feature of the mayoralty race in which Mr. Goodhart, Mayor Key and Dr. L. N. Huff are the contestants, was an attack made Wednesday in a statement issued by Dr. Huff charging Mr. Goodhart with being the candidate of certain "interests."

Dr. Huff declared that the voters will reject any man advanced to satisfy grudges. "It is not only amusing, but it is palpably ridiculous," declared Dr. Huff, "for these interests to assume that they can put a hand-picked candidate over the people, of Atlanta. The voters have the privilege of selecting their executive and I venture to say that they will do so in no uncertain terms, and without the advice of the power company or the chamber of commerce or the Presidents' club, any other special interests."

Mayor Key was ill in bed at his home Wednesday, and, therefore, had no comment to make upon the entrance of Mr. Goodhart into the campaign.

CHRISTENSEN HEADS THE NEW THIRD PARTY

another hall during the recess, J. A. H. Hopkins, their national chairman, presiding. Allen McCurdy, who made the keynote speech for their independent convention, made an address full of feeling, and before they adjourned to meet again at 9 o'clock tomorrow, it was clearly indicated that many of them were far separated from the labor group.

Balk at Socialism.

"We tried to get up a party for just average Americans, to get into action in 1920," McCurdy said. "We have been thrown together with a group who are working consciously for Marxian socialism. There isn't any enmity in me when I say this; I have been trying to say it to the fusion convention for two days.

"There has been an irreconcilable difference between some of us in the committee of forty-eight and the leaders of the labor group. It is all expressed in one word in the majority report, where it stands for 'increasing' control of industry by the workers. That means that they want to sink the foundation of the new party deep into communism, to be ready to deliver the industries of this nation into the hands of the workers in those industries, to be owned, controlled, operated for the benefit of the workers in them instead of for the whole people.

"That's an honest difference. I say 'Godspeed to you if you believe it. It is an irreconcilable difference for some of us.

"My feeling is that the real cause of labor has been betrayed here in these conventions by its real friends."

Melinda Alexander, secretary of the committee of forty-eight, followed him. She said the forty-eighters had been "taken in," but in a position where their votes could not count and their voices not be made effective. A number of delegates left to go back to the labor convention. Others said they would stay outside, but the majority sentiment appeared to be with Chairman Hopkins in his attempt to try and reunite the body Thursday morning. Several proposals were made to keep on with the attempt to proceed with still another political party.

Ford Is Nominated.

The new party, it was decided at the night session, will operate until August, 1921 under the labor party constitution. A draft of a new constitution was referred to a conference committee, to be reported on next year.

At 11 o'clock tonight, with all other work out of the way the convention proceeded to nomining speeches for presidential candidates.

R. H. Harland, of Washington, presented the name of Dudley Field Malone.

New York delegates staged a brief demonstration when Catherine Simms, of New York city, presented the name of Henry Ford. She explained she had first tried to offer the Detroit manufacturer to the single-tax party but received a cold reception.

The preamble and two planks of the majority report were given out. The preamble declared that in the United States the "power of government has been stolen from the people," classes the peace conference as "a greedy spectacle;" said the "masters of our government league themselves with the money masters of other nations to prevent self-determination by helpless peoples;" declared that effort is now being made in the United States to "stifle discussion and strip rights and liberties from Americans," and announced that "into this breach step amalgamated groups of men and women who perform useful work with hand and brain."

The first plank, entitled "100 per cent Americanism," called for repeal of laws against espionage, criminal syndicalism and sedition, and demanded "restoration of civil liberties and American doctrines."

Election of federal judges and establishment of the initiative, referendum and recall, the referendum especially applying to war issues "except in cases of actual military invasion," were demanded.

The second plank, headed, "Abolish Militarism at Home and Abroad," demands "withdrawal of the United States from further participation under the treaty of Versailles," and offers recognition to elected governments in Russia and Ireland," with "refusal to go to war with Mexico at the behest of Wall street."

It asks also for "withdrawal from the dictatorship over the Philippines, Hawaii, Haiti, Dominican Republic, Porto Rico, Cuba, Samoa and Guam."

Senator La Follette does not "deem himself available as a candidate for the new party presidential nominee." He sent word to the convention that he did not want the nomination.

Immediately after Chairman Walker had announced La Follette's decision not to accept the nomination, Lester Barlow, leader of the world war veterans, entered the fight and demanded that La Follette be drafted despite his wishes.

Pandemonium Reigns.

At the psychological moment someone swung a large photograph of the Wisconsin senator before the convention. The non-partisan leaguers from the Dakotas started a parade. After state fell into line. Pandemonium reigned for thirty minutes and was punctuated with cries of "read that platform," and "let's adopt it."

New York and Illinois delegations remained in their seats, as did Ohio and some other groups. As the parade progressed, the state standards were carried to the platform and grouped about La Follette's picture.

J. A. H. Hopkins and Robert M. Buck of the platform committee, which Barlow had accused of concealing the La Follette draft, shoved a copy into the speaker's hands and told him to read it when the demonstration subsided.

When the demonstration subsided, Chairman Walker denounced Barlow for stampeding the convention by a subterfuge, denied the charges of secret proceedings and refused to permit the reading of new fusion party during the first two hours of its convention and an undercurrent of dissatisfaction was in evidence throughout the meeting. It once more required the pleas of the leaders and constant conferences to keep open breaks from cropping out.

At 11:45 a. m. the platform conference ordered the typing of a third version of a fusion party platform and sent word to the convention that it would report at 2 p. m. The convention adjourned until that time.

Senator La Follette was still being represented in platform conferences, but there were few indications of what decisions were being made.

La Follette Balks at Platform.

Two planks of the platform being drafted by the conference committee of the labor party and the committee of forty-eight still were in dispute when word was received that Senator La Follette objected to certain planks in the tentative draft.

Little progress was made by the the La Follette platform.

Inclusion of the Plumb plan and declaration for government ownership of mines were said to be the points in dispute.

The unofficial version of the tentative draft which did not meet Senator La Follette's approval, follows:

1. Repeal of all sedition and criminal anarchy statutes.
2. Amnesty for political prisoners jailed because of religious belief or industrial activity.
3. Recognition of the right of workers, including government employees, to strike, and stripping of the courts of "powers seized" in dealing with industrial disputes and injunctional proceedings.
4. Recognition of right of free speech, free press, free assemblage and the right of asylum.
5. Declaration against war except in case of invasion, without a referendum vote.

CAN BE DEPENDED ON FOR RESULTS SAYS TAMPA MAN

Indigestion From Which He Had Suffered For a Long Time Quickly Overcome By Tanlac. Lived On Cereals For Nearly Two Years.

"Tanlac has done fine work in restoring my health and I don't believe I ever felt better," said Charles P. Rich, of 2010 Oakland avenue, Edgewater Park, Tampa, Fla.

"Two years ago my stomach got out of order and I had been going down hill ever since. I lost my appetite and my digestion was so bad that I had to live entirely on cereals. But even this disagreed with me and I fell off in weight and strength. I had pains and cramps in my stomach and a burning in my chest. Gas would form and cause me to have a heavy, bloated-up feeling for hours. My back also pained me and the more medicine I took the worse I became.

"Several weeks ago a friend advised me to try Tanlac, and it completely put an end to my troubles. I have gained back all my lost weight and am simply feeling fine. My appetite is good and I am no longer bothered with gas, bloating or pains. I can eat anything without a sign of indigestion. My back does not pain me at all and I was never in better health than I am now. Tanlac is a medicine that can be depended on for results."

16,185 MEN QUALIFIED TO VOTE IN PRIMARY

Only 382 Women Have Registered With City Clerk Walter Taylor.

A total of 16,185 male registrants of Atlanta are qualified to vote for city officers in the city white primary which will be held on July 26, the registration list completed by Registrar Lucien Harris showed.

These figures do not include the women voters who may register with City Clerk Walter Taylor up to the day prior to the primary. Since the city executive committee adopted a special allowing the women to vote, 382 have registered.

The names of the permanent voters of the county have been purged from the list of those qualified to vote in the city election. The list includes only those voters of the city who registered when they paid their taxes last fall or who registered before June 26, the date the books closed for the city primary. The city has no law covering the permanent list. All permanently registered voters who did not register when paying their taxes or who failed to register before June 26 can not vote in the city primary.

The registration by wards follows:

First—485.
Second—2,183.
Third—2,195.
Fourth—905.
Fifth—1,252.
Sixth—1,741.
Eighth—2,226.
Ninth—1,734.
Tenth—937.

Improvement Work On Stewart Avenue Begun on Wednesday

Work of widening and repaving Stewart avenue was begun Wednesday morning. The work is under the supervision of the county, which is furnishing the material and paying the construction company by the square yard.

A permanent pavement of concrete is being built and the distance to be covered is 2½ miles. Captain A. A. Clarke, superintendent of the public works department of the county, stated Wednesday that he thought the work would be completed within three months.

JESSUP OFFICER DEFENDS CONDUCT OF ENLISTED MEN

Exception to the term "picketed police station" and to the estimate of the number of soldiers who participated in the disorders Tuesday night, when Private William C. Parris, of Camp Jessup, was arrested at Lakewood, after he is said to have broken into the watermelon stand, is taken in a letter received by The Constitution Wednesday from Captain Robert P. Glassburn, executive officer at Camp Jessup.

Following Private Parris' arrest by Police Officers Cartwright and Sewell Tuesday night a number of enlisted men collected, so conducting themselves as to cause apprehension on the part of Manager W. C. Puckett, of Lakewood, who summoned additional assistance from police headquarters. When the prisoner was placed in the patrol wagon and brought to the city barracks without interference by the men in uniform, an army truck filled with soldiers followed close behind the wagon and dismounted at police station, where they remained for some time.

Captain Glassburn states that while at the city jail they behaved and acquitted themselves in an orderly manner, and were only curious to know what disposition had been made of Private Parris.

Action Is Deferred On Raising Traveling Grocery Store Tax

Declaring their belief that the introduction of traveling grocery stores would not injure the business of the retail food dealer of the city, the tax committee of the council deferred action Tuesday on a petition presented by the Atlanta Retail Grocers' association asking that the tax of $10 recently voted by council on such wagons be raised to the same rate as that of permanent stores.

This petition was drawn June 30 following action of council on Monday, June 21, in voting a tax of $10 per month on wagons selling groceries direct to homes. The basis of the petition was the statement that the grocers were being discriminated against in that they were compelled to pay an annual tax of $300 and their rent also often amounted to several hundred dollars per month.

Agreement Reached In Government Suit To Condemn Property

An agreement was reached Wednesday morning in the case of the government against 59.61 acres of land at Camp Gordon, belonging to the W. D. Wallace estate, between the government and counsel for the administrators of the estate, and a consent verdict was taken whereby the government will pay the estate $30,000 for the tract.

The parcel was condemned by the government as a part of the Camp Gordon reservation, and is one of the most desirable tracts at the camp, having a wide frontage on the Peachtree road. The case was handled for the government by Gordon M. Combs, assistant United States district attorney.

Portage
ALL OVERSIZE
Tires
Made in "DAISY" and "SKIDLOCK" Treads

SOME historians give LaSalle—famed as the explorer of the Mississippi—credit for the discovery of the Northwest; others give the honor to Radisson. Very different in station and temperament, the one a clear-cut cavalier and the other a rugged frontiersman, they were equally brave and fearless. The name of the former is associated in history with the Niagara and the Chicago Portages; the name of the latter with the Mackinaw Portage.

When these bold "voyageurs" plunged into the unexplored regions of the Northwest, there was no word in our language to describe the difficult trails that connected lake to lake. So they called them Portages—a word derived from the French—meaning "to carry"—because upon these rude paths the travellers had to bear the burden of the canoes and baggage on their shoulders. The Portage then came to mean the hard gruelling "carry," the back-breaking task of burden-bearing that all the pioneers of the North and West experienced.

THE first Portage Tire was produced ten years ago. It was a big, rugged and muscular tire—designed to stand up under the severest strains, built to deliver abundant mileage in spite of the jolts and jars of rough roads. A dependable tire then—it is immensely better today!

Every detail of carcass, tread, side-wall and bead is scientifically determined and built to exact specifications to insure correct balance and even wear. Only the stoutest and most carefully tested cotton fabric and cord goes into Portage Tires. That gives them strength to endure. A generously thick and tough—but pliable—rubber tread gives them the power to resist road abrasion.

Just as our language adopted the word Portage because of a need—so has the motor public adopted the tire.

They get you there—and back!

THE LIVE STOCK BILLS.

There are three bills pending in the general assembly which are of immeasurable importance to the development of the live stock industry in Georgia; and each of them should be enacted into law.

They are the Seaman marks and brands and live stock loans bills, and the Smith dog-control bill, which was introduced during the 1919 session and carried over the legislative recess as unfinished business.

The live stock loans bill is intended simply to safeguard loans made upon live stock as security, thus to enable farmers to borrow money on their cattle as they now can procure loans on cotton or other farm products. By making it a felony for the borrower to dispose of or remove from the jurisdiction of the court mortgaged live stock with intent to defraud the lender, it would validate live stock securities and encourage investment in them.

How that would, in turn, enable and encourage farmers to stock their farms with cattle, not having the requisite cash in hand, is illustrated by H. A. Petty, of Dawson, a prominent stockman, member of the board of directors of the Georgia association and chairman of the live stock committee of that organization, who, in an interview appearing in The Constitution Wednesday, said:

"As matters now stand, a small farmer may have 20 or 30 acres of velvet beans with his corn which may rot and waste because he lacks a carload of good steers to turn into the fields, and unless he has plenty of property, he cannot borrow money from the banks with which to buy the steers because the present law does not protect the loan, and for the same reason, he cannot secure a loan from a live stock loan company in any other state.

"The Seaman bills simply provide the same protection for cattle paper in Georgia that exists in the cattle states of the west. They will help the average farmer and will increase the production of feed crops, while under existing law only the wealthy man can engage in cattle feeding."

As to the marks and brands bill, it provides only for the official registration of distinguishing marks for cattle, and would serve as a protection of the owner against theft, and thus throw an additional safeguard around the investor in live stock chattel mortgage securities. It is an appropriate, if not necessary, companion to the live stock loans measure.

The dog-control bill is one against which there is no plausible argument.

As matters stand the sheep industry in Georgia has absolutely no legal protection against the ravages of predatory dogs; and so long as this is the case, no prudent man can be expected to engage extensively in the business of producing wool and mutton in this state on account of the hazard from worthless curs.

Mr. Petty said, in discussing the merits of this bill, that—

"I am only one of many farmers in southwest Georgia who would own a flock of sheep to eat the weeds and roughage that now go to waste on our farms, provided owners of sheep killing dogs were made responsible, or if there were a fund from license fees available as provided in the Smith bill to pay damages resulting from depredations of sheep killing dogs."

The live stock loans bill was put on its passage in the house a few days ago, and—owing, undoubtedly, to the fact that it was not sufficiently understood by the representatives—it was defeated by a narrow margin.

Subsequently, however, the house very commendably voted to reconsider that action, and the measure has been reassigned to a place on the calendar; and when it comes up for final action again it is to be hoped that it will pass without serious opposition.

The general assembly can do nothing more directly effective toward converting the boll weevil menace into a blessing; toward solving the problem of food supply, and toward making Georgia the banner live stock state of the union, than in the enactment of these three splendid, progressive and constructive measures into law.

THE POLISH DEFEAT.

The evident inability of Poland to successfully repel invasion by the bolsheviki presents the most serious situation with which the allied governments of Europe have been confronted since the ending of the world war.

It has put the allies in a rather grave dilemma. Desiring the disarmament of Germany, they at the same time see the peril of putting Germany in a position of helplessness before the menace of Leninism from the east.

As The San Francisco Chronicle aptly expresses it—

"Reduction of Germany's military force, desirable as it may be on various grounds, may weaken the world's anti-Bolshevik defenses in two ways—by destroying the ability of Germany to fend a soviet push through Poland or by making it easier for German Bolshevism to rise to control.

"Poland," The Chronicle goes on to say—

"Was to have been the buffer state to stem militant Leninism. But the Poles, taking advantage of a slackness in the Bolshevik spirit, attacked Russia. The effect was what they were warned, but would not believe, it would be. The Polish onslaught solidified the Bolsheviki and roused them to "defend the revolution." Poland, with all its courage, is no match for the immense Russia mass. General Pilsudski has been badly defeated; the soviet armies threaten Warsaw.

"If they sweep victoriously over Poland are they likely to stop at the German frontier? Will not Lenine, who has never ceased to cherish visions of a red, red world, move onward to put his German communist brothers in the dictator's seat? That would bring the Bolsheviki to the Dutch, Belgian and French frontiers and overclose to England. While the Bolshevik armies, even if reinforced in Germany, would not be likely to roll up the French military organization, so long as loyalty holds, neither the French nor any other Western people want that battle ever to begin."

That is the possibility and the problem confronting, not only the allied governments and the premiers in conference at Spa, but the whole world.

And while the world is struggling with the situation, the United States, the most powerful nation of the world, is compelled to sit by idly and look on, though gravely imperiled, solely and simply because a group of politicians in the United States senate sought to humiliate and discredit a democratic president by refusing to ratify the treaty of peace and league of nations covenant!

Harding lives in a dim past, but the democratic candidate is up-to-date, and in splendid lead for a bright future.

Protection for Sheep

(From The Springfield (Mass.) Republican.)

The repopulation of western Massachusetts farms with sheep is one of the desires of every agricultural agency at work in this section, but so long as the difficult problem of dog regulation is unsolved, this hope seems unlikely to be realized. How to settle the dog problem and encourage sheep-raising has been the despair of legislatures. Dogs have had their friends in the legislature, and drastic legislation which would give the sheep the required protection has not received sufficiently strong backing to bring about its passage. Yet, legislation of this sort must come if sheep-raising is to be revived.

The damage done by dogs even to the relatively few flocks of sheep now grazing in western Massachusetts run into the thousands of dollars each year. Figures compiled in Pittsfield show that during the past 20 years more than $75,000 has been paid by the county of Berkshire to owners of flocks that have been attacked by dogs. In the town of Williamstown alone more than $12,000 was paid for sheep damages in that period.

With figures like these as an indication of the prevalence of sheep-killing dogs, it is not to be wondered at when farmers refuse to take up sheep-raising. Here is a great economic waste going on and at the same time discouragement of what might be made a source of great wealth to the state, due entirely to legislative inaction or willingness to be swayed in judgment by liking for the dog. This problem should be taken up again by the legislature and an adequate measure of protection for sheep provided.

10-YEAR-OLD DAUGHTER RESCUED FROM GYPSY

Havana, Cuba, July 14.—Jessie Costello, 10-year-old daughter of John Costello, of St. Louis, Mo., said to have been missing from her home since April 25, was rescued tonight by detectives who raided a house in the Jesus del Monte suburb of Havana and arrested a Gypsy woman named Merino, and her son and daughter, George and Anna.

The raid was made at the solicitation of the girl's father, who, the police say, has been on the trail of the girl's alleged abductors for more than a month. Besides abduction of the child, Costello charged the Gypsies with having robbed him of $1,750 in money which, according to the authorities, was found in the raided house.

He was visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Mat McLendon, during his vacation and would have gone back to his work in Atlanta today.

When a boy he suffered with epilepsy and it is thought that while fishing yesterday he had an attack and fell into the creek, as there was no evidence of foul play. He was buried in the Anderson cemetery at this place this afternoon, the Rev. Pruitt officiating.

Henry Lincoln Johnson Appointed by Taft and Not by Wilson, As Charged by Watson—"Jackson of Jones" Seeking to Get Some More Notoriety—The Gubernatorial Race.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOMON

Following is one of several letters to The Constitution making the same inquiry:

Editor The Constitution: In last week's issue of Tom Watson's paper he makes the statement that Henry Lincoln Johnson (the negro republican national committeeman) supported President Wilson in 1912; that Wilson appointed him register of deeds, etc., in Washington. I believe this is false and will thank you if you have this record to give me.

Thanking you in advance,
Yours truly,
G. W. CLEGG.
Villa Rica, Ga., July 12, 1920.

Mr. Watson's charge is wholly incorrect, and it is difficult to understand why one so well informed would attempt to foster such a misstatement of facts upon the people of Georgia.

Henry Lincoln Johnson was appointed register of deeds for the District of Columbia by President William Howard Taft, republican, in 1909, and served through the Taft administration in that capacity.

In 1913, shortly after President Wilson had taken the oath of office the Georgia negro was replaced by an Oklahoma democrat—an Indian.

Henry Lincoln Johnson did not support Woodrow Wilson in 1912, and he never supported a democratic nominee for any office.

Mr. Watson's prejudices against the existing democratic administration and against Mr. Wilson personally, are so well known that no one is surprised at any efforts he may make to capitalize an official act of the president that might appeal strongly to the prejudices and passions of his followers; and certainly the appointment of a negro to administer an office patronized by white people, and under whom would be corralled a clerical force of white people, would fit the requirement about as completely as anything I can think of—

But when an absolute misrepresentation is resorted to to carry out such a design, than it must necessarily react—or "kick back" as some one has put it in less eloquent but forceful language.

Let it therefore be understood—

Taft, the republican, and not Wilson, the democrat, appointed Henry Lincoln Johnson, the present negro leader of the republican party in Georgia, to an administrative position in Washington.

And this same Johnson is now alleged to have testified in a bench hearing in Chicago last week that negroes had been lynched in Georgia for voting the republican ticket—

And this same republican party, of which the negro Johnson, is the Georgia spokesman and official head, is conforted considerably, no doubt, at Mr. Watson's recent signed statement in which he, an alleged democrat, declared "We are neither legally bound to respect" the democratic national convention's platform or nominees.

* * * *

"Jackson of Jones"

Now comes along "J. Benjamin Jackson of Jones," who wants a democratic legislature in Georgia to officially commend a republican governor in Vermont for refusing to call a special session to pass upon the equal suffrage amendment—equal suffrage, mind you, being a democratic policy as securely bound into the creed of the national party as any of the other tenets that have made democracy the birth-right of the southern people.

This, Mr. "Jackson of Jones" secured more notoriety than was due him at the last session, by reason of his fight on this suffrage matter, and but for the fact that he now steps beyond the bounds of party decency in seeking to commend a republican governor for slapping a democratic principle in the face, I certainly should make no mention of him here.

Equal suffrage is a question in which thousands of you people differ.

But it is here. It is here to stay.

Thirty-five states have ratified. The requisite one to make the necessary thirty-sixth will be found before the summer is over, and twenty million American women will vote in November whether we like it or not.

In many states in the union the women hold the balance of power.

The women naturally belong to the democratic party. It is a roof under which they can find most political comfort. It mare closely fits their ideals.

Then what is the sense of doing such an undemocratic thing as to uphold the hands of a republican executive, who doesn't give a rap for Brother Jackson or any other Georgian who claims to be a democrat; and in doing so slap the very party to which we subscribe our faith, and which we hope to see win in November.

And believe me it can only win through the instrumentality of the democratic women of America.

No person could have seen the refreshing participation of women in the national democratic convention; their loyalty and devotion to their party; their poise; their refining influences; their touch of genuine character to a great political meeting in which men differed in violence and sometimes fought; their enthusiasm; their earnestness and their disposition to help carry the standard of their party to national victory, without wishing them God speed, whether agreeing with the specific issue of woman suffrage or not.

And while I have no quarrel with any person who does not believe that women should vote—my father and mother who have gone on were both outspoken opponents of the very suggestion of equal suffrage—and while there is no sense or reason in questioning the sound democracy of any man who does not believe in woman suffrage, at the same time I do say with all the emphasis I can command, that it is a poor sort of a democrat who will commend a republican for taking issue with a tenet of his own democratic party faith.

Race for Governor Is Somewhat Exciting!

The three-cornered gubernatorial race is interesting.

Mr. Hardwick, who has apparently gotten a "leave of absence" from his official duties in Washington as the attorney of the bolshevist "ambassador" from Russia, long enough to run around the state and abuse the democratic administration, the democratic press, and about everything else that is outstanding and upstanding in the democratic party, is speaking, according to the Hearst newspaper that is supporting him, to thousands and thousands of people every day; and at the present rate, if his audiences keep up as reported thus far, he will have spoken to every man, woman and child in Georgia, north Florida, the southern end of South Carolina and the western end of North Carolina, as well as to a few thousand mountaineers in east Tennessee, before the 10th of August, with a whole month ahead of him with nothing to do.

When he gets through speaking to the thousands and tens of thousands who are breaking time records in flocking to hear him, according to Hearst's paper, then perhaps Cliff Walker and John Holder may edge in a few speeches of the old campmeeting variety and whoop 'em up a bit themselves.

In the meantime, with Hardwick the exponent of democratic insurgency, around whom the enemies of the administration and of the platform of the national democratic convention, will seek to concentrate; and with Walker and Holder, both exponents of Simon-pure, 100 per cent democracy, splitting the loyal, uncompromising democratic vote of Georgia into two personal followings—it doesn't take a four-eyed man to see that there is danger of a minority election, especially with the damnable county plurality system that is a part of the primary law of Georgia.

In a straight man-to-man fight between Hardwick and either Walker or Holder, Hardwick would be overwhelmingly defeated. The majority of the democrats of Georgia don't want him for governor, and he knows it. His only hope is the Neill primary law in a three-cornered race; and he knows that. He will be defeated if both Walker and Holder remain in the race, and I have no reason to believe they will not.

* * * *

Who Will Oppose The Senior Senator?

In that connection, the suggestion has been made that one, either Walker or Holder, retire from the race for governor and enter the race for the United States senate against Hoke Smith.

Either Holder or Walker can defeat Hoke Smith in a man-to-man fight for the senate.

The majority of the Georgia democrats wants a senator who will carry the flag of his party with unbended knee, and who will refuse to become the tool of Henry Cabot Lodge, of force bill fame, and the recent creator of Henry Lincoln Johnson's party leadership in Georgia, in seeking to tear down the democratic party and to destroy its hope of victory in the 1920 elections.

Thanks to the unswerving loyalty of the greatest democratic convention in the history of the party, the trick of the insurgents didn't work, and one by one they are falling, just as Vardaman fell, and Hardwick fell; and just as Gore, of Oklahoma, will fall in September, and as Smith of Georgia will fall in September.

I don't know who is going to run against Smith, but somebody is going to run. And somebody worth while!

It has been suggested that Judge Spencer Atkinson, Judge Walter George, Pleasant A. Stovall and others make the race; and Governor Hugh M. Dorsey has long been looked upon as the logical candidate.

I have no idea what the wishes of any of these estimable gentlemen may be regarding it. I do say that Governor Dorsey, upstanding, vigorous, young, with a clean, constructive record as an executive with a democratic loyalty that no man can challenge, with keen ability, proverbial honesty and a life that measures up to the highest ideals of Christian citizenship, can give Hoke Smith the most merciless drubbing he ever received, not excusing the senator's unhappy expressions of a few weeks back.

I don't know that the governor will run; but—

Somebody is going to run! And somebody worth while!

Bits of New York Life

BY O. O. McINTYRE

New York, July 14.—(Special.)—Professional spoofing is at times costly. Overlooking Broadway there is a suite of rooms where the comic-strippers, lay-out men, news illustrators and cartoonists turn out their deathless creations for a chain of newspapers.

A good many years ago a gawkish boy who seemed all feet and freckles secured the post of office boy and general carrier of artistic woes. In two days he won the sobriquet of "Stupid." When the lad wasn't busy they would give him a bucket and send him down to Park Row after a "bucket of editorials."

He would come back with an almost broken back and a bucket filled with lead linotype slugs. They sent him scouring the neighborhood for wall paper stretchers and tent wrenches. He bore his burdens with cheerful composure, and always smiled.

Once they sent him to the brink of the Hudson with a shovel and detailed instructions to push the river back. He worked dutifully until a cop chased him. But the office worm finally turned and one day when a particularly raw joke was played on him he revolted and walked out.

That was the last heard of "Stupid" until recently when the news went zipping around the office that a keen executive was coming to the place with full power to act as idea man. He was to furnish ideas and turn suggestions into artistic worth.

He came in one morning later. It was "Stupid." He had graduated from an office fledgling into a capable executive. He began to speed up the organization. He stopped office foolery. There are no jokes there any more. Lunch-hour time is regulated by sharp call-downs for lateness.

"Stupid" never refers to his former job, and neither has any reference been made to it by those who work under him. He did not discharge a man. And he has their respect. But the joyful spirit of the office is gone.

H. T. Webster, the cartoonist, adopted a country boy from the wilds of Sullivan county recently. A few weeks ago Mr. Webster and the boy departed for his summer home at Meddybemps, Maine. The first week there was a dance in the town hall and both were invited. "I hope," said the boy, "they'll dance square dances, where a feller can use his brains."

Away down on Pearl street is a junk shop which bears the name Westminster Abbey. Many pass it oaily and smile. It so happens that Westminster Abbey is the name not of the store, but of the proprietor. And up on Park avenue there is an ice-cream store labeled Niagara Falls. Miss Niagara is a comely young woman who owns the place.

A New York boy has collected damages because he was pictured in an uplift book as "the toughest kid on the block." As a result, the other boys made fun of him. He doesn't know real suffering. My Sunday school teacher once designated me as his prize pupil at a Sunday school picnic. To this day in my home town the stigma remains.

At the yachting races off the Hook one saw a strange sight. The yachting writers dress in white trousers, blue coats and jaunty caps. One cannot help but think of Irvin Cobb in trunks covering a prize fight. All the yachtsmen put in at Greenwich, Conn., and in one club there are 58 millionaires sleeping under the one roof. And, as an experiment, someone suggested counting the total amount of cash. It amounted to $115.

Mystery Surrounds Attack by Negroes On Two White Men

Savannah, Ga., July 14.—Police officers are searching for four negroes who fired on Richard and John Bailey, white, brothers, wounding them both, last night, as they landed on Green island from a launch. John Bailey received a flesh wound from a ball out of a Winchester rifle; Richard Bailey was more seriously but not dangerously injured. Both are at a hospital here.

Whe nasked about the affair, the brothers declined to state why they landed on Green island. They said four negroes opened fire upon them as they landed, and fred a score of shots. The negroes are said to be known to the police. The object of their attack is a matter of mystery.

HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

TEETH, TONSILS AND HEART—3. WHAT A DENTIST HAD IN HIS HEAD.

A dentist writes in part:

"One of your articles on heart disease prompts me to write. I am a dentist, aged 48, and have indulged in no dissipation save work. For many years I had suffered with intense headaches. Six years ago it was found that my blood pressure was 185. I went to —— clinic, and there it rose to 195. My headaches continued on my return home. I then had my teeth X-rayed and found four impacted third molars (wisdom teeth unerupted.) The upper two were removed, but the lower two were not, but I had the two second molars (lower) removed with the thought of relieving pressure. This was five years ago. I have never had a headache since."

The dentist goes on to mention how the blood pressure at one time rose to 240 millimeters, and during a stay in bed it fell to 120 millimeters, which is a fairly normal systolic pressure for a mature adult at rest. However, the interesting point is that even with his high blood pressure, the headaches ceased when the impacted or unerupted wisdom teeth were removed from their tomb in the jaw, and these impacted teeth were of course not apparent until their presence in the jaw bone was shown by the X-ray picture.

High blood pressure is not a common cause of headache, or rather, persons with excessive systolic pressure usually do not suffer with headache. Nor do they commonly suffer with dizziness, nor are they usually florid or red-faced, as the popular views of high blood pressure would have it. But the dentist—who, of all people, should have considered teeth as the primary source of ill health, "doctored"—as the almanac reader would say—or consulted or took treatment—as I wish they would learn to say—in various places and from various doctors, good doctors, too, for several years before the teeth were investigated as a possible cause of the headache. He does not say so in his letter, but I suspect the doctor suspected the headaches were due to the cardiovascular disease if not to the high blood pressure. Sometimes, unfortunately, high blood pressure and headache are both dependent on the same cause.

It is just a possibility that mouth infection was even a prime cause of the cardiovascular degeneration which I assume the dentist has—I assume this, not because of the excessive blood pressure, merely, but because of other findings which he mentions, and which I see no good in quoting here. A dentist, of all people, ought to permit no septic focus or possible focus, painless and latent or silent though it be, to exist in his mouth—but maybe dentists are like some doctors—so interested in other people's mouths, arteries and things that they never pay much attention to their own until something serious occurs. Worse still, the dentist in this case is a specialist in X-ray work himself. Ain't it awful the way physicians don't heal themselves?

The constant systemic absorption of poisonous matter produced by disease germs in an infected root canal under a beautiful and painless crown or filling is a very likely cause of insidious degenerative change in arteries and heart? This absorption takes place through the lymph and blood streams, not through the digestive tract. The victim of a septic mouth doesn't have to swallow the poison; he gets hypodermic doses of it every minute night and day, for years, until the damage is done.

Snake Cucumber Is Some Crawler In Georgia Soil

Waycross, Ga., July 14.—(Special.) What is thought to be the biggest cucumber ever grown in this country is being displayed by J. A. Purvis, of Lenox. The cucumber, which is of the "snake variety," measures 4½ feet long and is well proportioned. While this particular variety often grows to be eight or nine inches in length, it is a fine variety for tabel use. This was the only one of unusual size in the patch, and was surrounded by the pickling size. Several 16-inch specimens have been reported from this section.

HOUSE TO CONSIDER BIENNIAL SESSIONS

Members Vote to Disagree to Adverse Report of Committee.

The house of representatives Wednesday voted to disagree with the report of the committee on constitutional amendments that reported adversely the Munday bill providing for biennial sessions of the legislature, placing this measure again on the house calendar.

The Lankford bill, amending the constitution to authorize taxation for providing higher than elementary instruction in the public and common schools, was recommitted to the committee on constitutional amendments.

The "baby bond" amendment, introduced by the Fulton delegation authorizing cities of 150,000 or more to issue street improvement bonds, was being debated when a motion to adjourn prevailed.

Among the important bills passed was a local bill by the Cobb delegation providing for a city manager plan of government for Marietta, and authorizing that city to acquire and operate public utilities.

Seeking to protect West Point from further ravages of floods, the Troupe county delegation introduced four measures, two of which provide for the condemnation within and without the limits of West Point for the protection of the city from high waters. One of the bills asked for a constitutional amendment authorizing the city of West Point to exceed the constitutional limit of 71 per cent in issuing bonds for protection against floods, and the fourth bill authorizes the formation of a river and levee commission.

A bill by Mr. Guess, of DeKalb, if passed will require that all the front and back platforms of street cars be inclosed and that street cars be heated in cold weather.

The bill by Mr. Arnold, of Clay, providing for the classification of property and the taxation of incomes, inheritances, privileges and occupations, which failed Tuesday because of a lack of ten votes, was reconsidered Wednesday and placed back on the house calendar.

The Knight resolution, seeking to distribute the highway fund, which had received an unfavorable report from the appropriations committee, but which was placed back on the calendar by the adoption of a report of the rules committee Wednesday morning, was set for special order Thursday.

MISS CALDWELL FOUND IN DAZED CONDITION

Miss Mary Caldwell, 23 years of age, of 458 Courtland street, was not doing so well Wednesday night, according to reports from doctors at Grady hospital. Miss Caldwell suffered a nervous breakdown Tuesday night and was found in a dazed condition.

At first the doctors thought that she had been poisoned. She had a similar attack last year and improved after treatment under a nerve specialist. She awoke Tuesday morning feeling very badly and her mother summoned the family physician. Miss Caldwell then left the house for a stroll and the next her mother heard from her was that she had been taken to the hospital.

ROW OVER DAUGHTER FATAL TO BEDSOLE

Samson, Ala., July 14.—Visiting the home of Gillis Bowers late Tuesday night to warn Bowers' son to cease paying attentions to his daughter, Millville Bedsole was shot to death and Gillis Bowers was seriously wounded in a free-for-all pistol duel that followed.

Bedsole was accompanied by his son, Oree Bedsole, and the two entered the room of Gillis Bowers' son, the latter escaping through a window. The gun play then started and the two elder men fell. Oree Bedsole is in the Geneva jail, charged with assault to murder.

POLES RETIRING ON ENTIRE FRONT

Dispatch From Copenhagen Indicates That Bolsheviki Will Accept Armistice Proposals Sent by British.

London, July 14.—Further advances by the bolsheviki in their campaign against the Poles are reported in Tuesday's official communique, received by wireless from Moscow today. The statement reads:

"In the direction of Kovel we crossed the River Goryn, twenty miles south of Sarny, and we are developing our advance. Fierce fighting is proceeding in our favor.

"In the direction of Lida we have occupied the railway station at Prudy and Polotchany and Ushatochka.

"In the direction of Baronovitchi we have driven the enemy from his position on the River Svislotch and occupied Mikhanovitchi and Stazons.

"Our advance along the entire front is continuing to develop successfully."

LITVINOFF TO HEAD RUSSIAN ENVOYS.

Copenhagen, July 14.—Maxim Litvinoff, former "soviet ambassador to oLndon," has been designated head of the Russian delegation to the forthcoming peace conference in London between the representatives of soviet Russia, Poland and the other border states, it was announced here today.

NO REPLY YET TO BRITISH NOTE.

London, July 14.—British officials stated today the Russian soviet government had not yet replied to the British proposal for an armistice between Poland and Russia, to be followed by a peace conference.

PROPOSED PEACE. WITH WRANGEL.

London, July 14.—Great Britain in its recent note to the Russian soviet government, besides proposing an armistice between the bolsheviki and Poland, also accepted a proposal that an armistice be arranged simultaneously with General Wrangel, anti-bolshevik leader on the southern front, Andrew Bonar Law announced in the house of commons today.

The armistice with General Wrangel, he said, would be on the basis that Wrangel retire immediately to Crimea and that during the armistice this must be a neutral zone. Wrangel would be invited to London to discuss the future of his troops, but would not be a member of the conference to follow the armistice.

The British note, which was dispatched on July 11, asked for a definite reply within a week, Mr. Bonar Law stated.

WILSON FELICITATES FRANCE ON HOLIDAY

Tri-Color Floats Over White House in Commemoration of Bastile Day.

Washington, July 14.—Confidence that the ties which bind the American and French people "in fraternal affection and esteem are indestructible and will abide forever," is expressed by President Wilson in a Bastille day message sent today to President Deschanel of France.

The messag efollows:

"Please accept, Mr. President, for yourself and the great French people my sincere and warm felicitations and best wishes, as well as those of the American people, on the occasion of this national holiday, commemorative of an event which, like our own Declaration of Independence, gave notice to the world that men should no longer be subjected to the tyranny and despotism of arbitrary power, but that laws should be just an equal to all. It was such sentiments that had previously moved the French people to give not only their sympathy but their assistance to the American colonies struggling for freedom, thus engendering a gratitude which has descended with increasing fervor from generation to generation of American citizens and which found its visible expression in the spectacle of American armies fighting with the armies of France for the rights of man. The ties which bind the two peoples in fraternal affection and esteem are, I am confident, Mr. President, indestructible and will live forever."

The French tri-color floated over the white house today for the first time, a special flag pole having been erected for it yesterday. The French flag also was displayed on all other government buildings and on a number of private business establishments.

During the day Secretary Baker, accompanied by a representative of the French embassy, and Major General March, chief of staff, and other army officers, went to Arlington National cemetery, where he laid wreaths on the graves of French soldiers; some of whom died while assisting in the training of American forces in this country during the war.

FRANCE COMMEMORATES TAKING OF BASTILE.

Paris, July 14.—France today celebrated the one hundred and thirty-first anniversary of the taking of the Bastille. Artillery and infantry estimated to number 41,000 marched through Paris to the Vincennes race track, where they took part in a great review. Points of vantage were occupied by thousands of Parisians, who took up their positions shortly after dawn. All the buildings of Paris were flag-bedecked, the French and American flags being entwined with the colors of the other allies.

The brilliancy of the military review was marred by the absence of President Deschanel and Marshal Foch.

General Pershing's greetings to "Foch, France and its army," and the American Legion message to the French were displayed in all the newspapers.

Paris last night reverted to its holiday pleasures, stopped by the war. The government gave free concerts and street dances which will continue tonight and tomorrow night.

Paris today was one vast playground. All business was at a standstill and even surface transportation ceased. Tonight huge bonfires blazed in the capital and in many other large cities.

Carl Wanderer Calm As He Studies Bible In Murderers' Row

Chicago, July 14.—Carl Wanderer was transferred today from the Hudson avenue detention home to the county jail, where he was placed in "murderer's row." He is the strangest and the calmest inmate in the history of that row, police said.

The state's attorney's office will ask Judge Crowe to assign the case for trial as soon as possible and ask for the death penalty, it was said.

The prisoner spent the greater part of the day reading half a dozen prayer books and Bibles, which were brought to him by his father, and his sisters, whom he saw for the first time since he was placed under arrest.

The former army lieutenant, who slew his wife and a man whom he had hired to be on hand so he could be killed and branded as a highwayman, said that hanging could not come too soon.

M. C. Beavers Bound Over.

M. C. Beavers, of 55 Springer street, who was arraigned before United States Commissioner W. Colquitt Carter at 11 o'clock Monday morning charged with violating the federal prohibition laws, waived preliminary hearing and was held under $500 bond. Beavers was already under a state bond of $500, following his arrest Monday afternoon by federal and county officers who raided his residence on Springer street and discovered a distilling outfit and a quantity of whisky and ingredients under his house.

Standard Chart of Diamond Grades

In crystals alone there are no less than seven to ten colors. Hardly any two dealers classify diamonds alike. Very few dealers have any grading system at all—the salesman who happens to wait upon you may tell you it is a certain grade and another salesman might probably claim it to be some other quality.

Here, there is no guesswork. Every mounted stone in stock bears a tag on which is shown the exact weight, lowest net price, and the quality is indicated by symbols as per the following chart:

DIAMOND CHART

D—Fine crystal white and perfect
I—Same color as "D," slightly imperfect
A—Fine white and perfect
M—Same color as "A," slightly imperfect
O—Fine commercial white and perfect
N—Fine white, imperfect

In all imperfect stones not marked "N" the flaw or defect will be invisible without the aid of a strong magnifying glass. Our grades and weights are guaranteed. For the same quality, we do not believe it possible for anyone to sell for less than our prices.

Selections shipped prepaid. Attractive monthly terms allowed.

Wheeler-Brown Wedding

The marriage of Miss Mary Lois Wheeler and Mr. William Ambrose Brown took place last evening at 7:30 o'clock at the First Christian church, the ceremony being performed by Rev. L. O. Bricker, pastor of the church, in the presence of a large company of relatives and friends.

The altar decorations were very artistically carried out in white and green, palms forming the background, and alternated with baskets filled with white glafioli. A program of music was played before the entrance of the bridal party, and a tableau picture was formed as they assumed their places at the altar.

The maid of honor, Miss Euna Powell, was gowned in pink georgette crepe, and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Nellie Wheeler, a sister of the bride, was gowned in rose-colored organdy, and carried a bouquet of deep pink roses. The two matrons of honor, Mrs. Walter G. Wheeler and Mrs. H. A. McCormick, sisters of the bride, wore gowns of rose organdy, and carried pink roses, in arm bouquet effect.

The flower maidens, Misses Louise Estes and Katherine Craighead, were gowned in white organdy, with sashes of white satin ribbon, and carried French baskets filled with pink rosebuds.

Master Charles Wheeler, brother of the bride, was ring-bearer, and wore a suit of white satin, and carried the ring on a real lace medallion placed on a silver tray.

The bride entered the church with her father, Mr. William Thomas Wheeler, by whom she was given in marriage. She was lovely in her bridal robes of white satin, the skirt gracefully draped and caught with seed pearl ornaments. The bodice was trimmed with real lace, and the court train was fastened to her shoulders by pearl ornaments. The tulle veil fell to the end of the train and was caught to her brow with a chaplet of orange blossoms and valley lilies. She carried a bouquet bride roses, showered with swansonia.

Mr. Thomas S. Wheeler acted as best man, and the groomsmen included Mr. H. A. McCormick, Mr. Reynolds Wheeler and Mr. Walter G. Wheeler.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler. The decorations were in palms and ferns and the flowers used were pink roses, sweetpeas, gladioli, filling vases and baskets. The bride's cake, embossed richly in pink roses, adorned the center of the table in the dining room and encircling this were silver candlesticks holding unshaded pink candles.

Mrs. W. T. Wheeler received her guests wearing a gown of French blue georgette crepe, embroidered in crystal bead design. Her flowers were lavender sweetpeas.

Mr. Brown and his bride left for a wedding journey at the seashore, and on returning to Atlanta will make their home for the present with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler.

For Miss Yeager.

Miss Margaret Yeager, of Knoxville, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Carroll McGaughey, was honor guest at a bridge tea yesterday, given by Miss Charlotte Hemmer, at her home on Moreland avenue. Invited to meet Miss Yeager were: Miss Maude Couch, Miss Dorothy Simms, Miss Margaret Pratt, Miss Venice Mayson, Miss Margaret Vaughan, Miss Frances Dudley, Miss Lillian Raley, Mrs. William Rose, Mrs. Carlton Lee.

Good Savings on These Thompson's Glove-fitting Corsets at $2 to $7.50

STRAIGHT off, let us say that these are our regular prices on these corsets—they were not specially bought; neither have they been marked down. —But we bought them in the early part of this year. Since then, the makers have twice been forced to advance their prices. These corsets have just come in. We've marked them on the basis of what they cost and not on the basis of what they are costing today. Therein lies a splendid saving for women who buy them.

Fashionable corsets for the summer season. Of plain or brocaded materials; white or flesh. Cut long over the hips and low or medium low at the bust. Strong hose supporters attached. Sizes 20 to 36. Priced from $2 to $7.50; but their duplicates soon to come in will necessarily be priced higher.

Baby Health Centers Continue in Numbers.

There will be another baby health center established this morning at 9 o'clock in the Church of the Epiphany, when all the mothers in the community in which that church centers are invited to come and bring their children.

Advice will be given if asked, and information given out. These health centers of which there are now five in Atlanta, are established under the direction of the state department, and are sponsored by the Federated club women of Atlanta.

PRESIDENT RENDERS TRIBUTE TO MESSENGER

Trenton, N. J., July 14.—With floral triubutes from President Wilson, Secretary Joseph Tumulty and former Governors, Fielder, Runyon and Stokes, embanked around the grave, Samuel W. Gordon, negro messenger to New Jersey governors for more than 46 years, who died Sunday, was buried here today. Former Governor Runyon spoke on behalf of the New Jersey governors.

Women Are Reminded to Register Before July 20

BY ISMA DOOLY

The women of Atlanta are reminded that their time of registration has been extended to July 20, which is the last day when women can register to vote in the forthcoming white primary. Whether or not the right to vote in national elections will come to the women of this state this fall through ratification of the Anthony amendment, the men of Atlanta have made it possible for the women of Atlanta to vote in the municipal election, thus giving them a voice in the naming of the men who will administer the city's affairs.

Women are especially reminded in this connection that the schools, the hospitals, the play grounds, better sanitation, better health conditions—in fact, all the matters in which as women they have been interested, will be affected by the size of the vote they register—therefore the significance and importance of their registering to vote in the forthcoming primary.

Men elected to official office may, at times, turn a deaf ear to women appealing for certain reforms, and appear to be indifferent to the things in which women are interested, but they are not going to turn a deaf ear to a woman voter—the woman who has it in her power to work for or against his election.

He will carefully investigate what the things are women are working for, and he will be pretty apt to attend to that little piece of business for them.

To be able to drop one slip of paper in the ballot box in the forthcoming primary, which votes for or against a man, will mean far more toward getting what she wishes done than all the petitions women have signed, and the personal appeals they have made during all these previous years.

Therefore, let women take advantage of this temporary citizenship the men of Atlanta are offering them, and go as soon as possible and register and then vote.

Miss Elizabeth Crawford Weds Mr. Alex Mayer Hitz Wednesday

Dr. and Mrs. James Hardin Crawford announce the marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, to Mr. Alex Mayer Hitz, formerly of Washington, D. C., but now of Atlanta, the ceremony taking place yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, at their home on Peachtree road. Rev. Ashby Jones, of the Ponce de Leon avenue Baptist church, performed the ceremony, which was witnessed by only the immediate relatives, and a limited company of close friends.

Blue hydrangeas, pink gladoli, and lavender sweetpeas were used in effective arrangement in the living room where the ceremony was performed, before an improvised altar of palms. Miss Josephine Crawford, the bride's young sister, was her only attendant, and she wore a lovely frock of pale blue georgette crepe, trimmed with Irish crochet lace, and carried a French basket, filled with Dresden colored sweetpeas.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Dr. J. H. Crawford, with whom she entered the room, gowned in a stylish tailored suit of midnight blue tricotine, while her hat was a model of blue duvetyn, and she wore a corsage of lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Crawford, mother of the bride, was gowned in dark blue georgette crepe, beaded in steel.

Miss Hallie Crawford, a sister of the bride, wore a gown of orchid-colored chiffon, draped over pale blue satin, and her flowers were lavender sweetpeas.

Mrs. Joseph D. Rhodes, the bride's aunt, was gowned in white crepe de chine, and wore a hat of rose-colored duvetyn.

Mr. and Mrs. Hitz left after the informal reception for their home in Athens, where they will reside for several months, and on the expiration of that time, they will return to Atlanta and will keep house.

The bride is a charming young girl, who has not made her debut in society as yet, having just finished her education at Washington seminary. She is a member of the Pi Pi sorority and has been very popular at school. She is unusually pretty and winsome.

Mr. Hitz is the son of Mrs. Florian Hitz, of Washington, D. C., and was graduated from Washington and Lee university, afterward taking a law course at the law school of Michigan, where he became a member of the Phi Alpha Delta fraternity.

Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Crawford, Asheville, N. C., were among the out-of-town guests.

Girlish, Wrinkle-Free Skin Easy to Have

Since its remarkable astringent and tonic properties became known, clever women all over the world have been using the saxolite face bath to "tone up" their faces, remove wrinkles and draw flabby cheeks and neck back to normal. After using the solution, the face immediately feels much firmer. The skin tightens evenly all over the face, thus reducing lines and sagginess. The formula is: Powdered saxolite, one ounce, dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint.

This simple and harmless face bath is a splendid thing for the outdoor girl, since sun, wind and flying dust are so provocative of squinting and other contortions which cause wrinkles and crowsfeet. Also it is fine to freshen up a tired face in hot, depressing weather.—(adv.)

DOES YOUR BABY SLEEP WELL AT NIGHT?

Baby's sleep is important. At birth baby sleeps about nine-tenths of the time and should take a daily nap until about four years old. A quiet, peaceful sleep is a sign of perfect health, while disturbance of sleep is almost always due to improper feeding, which causes indigestion, constipation, sour stomach, gas, etc.

A baby specialist, while admitting that a good baby laxative should be used in such cases, warns mothers against the use of strong, irritating drugs that cause inflammation of the delicate membrane of baby's stomach, and recommends "Baby Ease," a perfected baby laxative by a baby specialist.

"Baby Ease" is excellent for all disorders of the stomach and digestion in babies and children. It is easy-acting, non-irritating, does not produce over-action or leave baby constipated. It is a safe, harmless and efficient baby laxative and corrective. If "Baby Ease" fails to correct these troubles after a few doses, take your baby to a specialist for a thorough examination. "Baby Ease" may be had from your druggist.—(adv.)

Crackers End Baron Series By Snapping Up Double Bill

FRANK NAMES "KIDS' DAY."

Hurrah, Friday is to be "Kids' Day" at Ponce de Leon park, with the Bears and Crackers staging the performance on the diamond. Boss Cholly Frank announced today that all fans under 12 years of age would be admitted absolutely free to the choice seats in the bleachers for Friday's game with Bob Coleman's Bears.

Mr. Frank is the first Southern magnate to start the move to make it possible for the kid fans to view real baseball games occasionally. The regular admission price is admittedly too much for the average parent to fork over day by day for the kiddies to see the games. The fans of the future are thus deprived of seeing regulation games except once in a long period of time. Boss Frank is doing the kiddies a turn and giving the game in general a boost. Other Southern league moguls may take the cue around the circuit and help prepare the kids of today to become the dyed-in-the-wool fans of tomorrow. All fans under 12 are especially invited to be at the park early Friday for the opening game of the Mobile series, which will do much to keep the Crackers in second place over the Barons.

BY CLIFF WHEATLEY.

After the Crackers had won the first game of the double-header at Poncey yesterday afternoon by the proverbial "skin of their teeth," due principally to the efforts of Fred Hager, who was pinch-hitting for Cliff Markle, Tom Sheehan jumped into harness for the next game and proceeded to administer his second beating of the series to the chesty Barons. Incidentally, Tom turned in a two-hit card for his afternoon's performance, and we'll say Mr. Sheehan had everything on the ball but the trade mark and this we understand, he would have had, had not the well-known brothers beat him to the nation's patent office. The score of the first game was 4 to 3, while the second was brought Crackerwards by the tuneful melody of 5 to 1.

We will dispose of one incidental within this paragraph, and the first one is that the Frankmen by virtue of snatching the double bill of yesterday, are this morning tied with the Barons for the runner-up position in the standing of clubs with the opportunity exceedingly promising that they will step into full possession of the second rung in the ladder before the week is out.

The second incidental is that the umpiring firm of Gifford and Pfenninger saw things a little our way yesterday, and their influence played no small part in the successes of the Crackers. And the "incidentals" list is closed with the statement that Outfielder Griffith, of the Baronial clan, was chased from the first game, packing with him a nice fine for daring to question Mr. Pfenninger's decision of a play at second that killed the Barons' chances for the initial encounter.

Markle Pitched Well.

Cliff Markle was Charlie Frank's slab choice for the game that preceded the old "marster's" masterful performance, and the latest Cracker hurler pitched a wonderful exhibition. Errors by Frank Mills, Markle's battery mate in the Steel league, had the little right-hander in deep water at times, but he came out nicely and his victory over Joe Coffindaffer was well earned. Joe was in good form himself, and when Joe's that way, no team with an indifferent manner of playing has a chance against his wicked hooks.

Four of the six hits that Markle surrendered were bunched in the fourth inning and the result was enough to break the hearts of fighters of less stamina than the Frankmen. Getting behind on scoring to Charlie Frank's boys means little in their young lives and they tied the count in nothing flat.

In the fourth frame, Barnhart, second man up, beat out a hit to third and went to third on Bernsen's clean single to right; Ellis, correctly termed "jinx"—along with Tommy McMillan, Dixie Walker, Rube Robinson and Demoe—did what was feared, doubling to the right field bank, and scoring two runners; Ellis flivvered, however, before he reached third, springing a "charlie horse" just as he drew up at the bag that would have made a triple of his bingle. Smith tagged him and the second out was made. Griffith followed with a triple, but Hairston was not the pinch artist to bring him in.

Crackers Tie Score.

The Crackers immediately tied the score. Martin beat out an infield hit and went to second on Smith's sacrifice bunt; High hit to Bernsen and was out, Martin going to third on the play; Wingo walked, and Dick Kauffman tripled over Ellis' head in deep left. Ellis hurt his leg again and was withdrawn, Moley substituting Croll.

The locals put across a run in the seventh frame, after two men were down, Sammy Mayer starting the works by singling to center; Harry Damrau singled to right and Mayer stopped at third, Damrau going to second on the throw-in; Mills beat out a hit through the box and Mayer counted.

Mills' error in the eighth gave the Barons the run that tied the score again. Gooch filed out to Wingo; Coffindaffer walked and went to second on Stewart's single; Stevenson hit to Martin and Stewart was forced at second, Coffindaffer going to third on the play; Stevenson stole second and when Mills' peg to second was wild, Coffindaffer registered.

Terrible Suspense.

How Markle ever got through the tenth without losing his game is the mystery of yesterday afternoon at Poncey. Six batters faced him during this time; he walked two of them and Mills made a costly error, but the score board was kept clear of all else save another chalk doughnut. Stewart walked and crossed the home plate when Mills pegged a mile from his mark in attempting to kill Stevenson at first; the ball rolled under the improvised stands in right field and Stevenson came home. After a long confab, Stevenson was sent back to second and Stewart took up a position on third; Barnhart popped to Damrau and Bernsen was purposely walked; Croll hit to Damrau and Stewart was caught at the plate; Griffith grounded to Martin, who booted but recovered the ball after it had ricocheted from Damrau, beating Croll to the bag for a force out.

The Crackers won the game in the twelfth inning, Mayer accepting a free pass as a starter, going to second on Damrau's single to left; Mills hit to Coffindaffer and Mayer was thrown out to Barnhart; Hager, batting for Markle, singled to center and Damrau scored.

Second Game.

Moley picked Gallagher to oppose Sheehan in the second game and the Baronial chieftain made his only mistake of the series. Gallagher had some stuff, but it was all to the liking of the Crackers, who netted themselves seven safeties during the six innings they batted the pitcher over the lot.

The Crackers scored a couple of runs in the second inning, bunching two hits that accomplished the feat. Kauffman walked and went to second when Mayer laid down a sacrifice bunt; Damrau walked; Hager popped out to Griffith back of second, but Sheehan singled to center, scoring Kauffman; Damrau advanced to third on the hit; Martin singled to right and Damrau scored.

Two more runs were annexed by the locals in the fifth when three hits followed each other in quick time. Martin singled to left, but was caught off first; Smith walked and scored on High's two-base hit to left center; Wingo singled to center and High counted.

Both teams scored in the sixth inning, the Crackers' run resulting from two hits. Mayer beat out a hit down the first base line and stole second; Damrau hit to Barnhart and Mayer was tagged on the line; Hager beat out an infield hit to third and Damrau scored when Bernsen's throw to head him at the corner went over Barnhart's head.

The Barons' counter resulted from a base on balls followed by Bernsen's triple to deep center.

Yacht That Holds Together May Be The Victor in Today's Race for Cup

The 100-guinea cup at stake, the Resolute in center, and the Shamrock IV.

New York, July 14.—Time allowance, a vital factor to any yatchsman, assumed added importance tonight on the eve of the first America's cup race of 1920, when it was learned that, in the event of a close finish tomorrow, the winner might not be known before Friday.

Announcement by the race committee that Shamrock IV must give Resolute, American defender, a handicap of seven minutes and one second because of the challenger's greater spread of canvas, was coupled with another announcement that the committee had granted a request for remeasurement of certain of the Shamrock's sails.

It was impossible to put her canvas under tape today, and the yachts will be racing off Sandy Hook tmorrow, the work may not be done before Friday, a day of rest, for the yatching stars. Therefore, should the result of tomorrow's contest hang on seconds, the rival crews must remain in suspense until Friday at least, for any change in sail figures would be reflected in time allowance. This change, however, would only be a few seconds, according to H. De B. Parsons, chairman of the race committee who added that the possibility of a reversal in the judges' decision was almost negligible.

Charles E. Nicholson, the studious little English sportsman who designed Sir Thomas Lipton's Challenger, Shamrock IV, this afternoon stood by his guns, defending the new trousers-leg sail broken out as a last-minute surprise on the Norwegian-American crew of the Resolute. Nicholson invented this sail which wraps the mast and laces to the luff or mast-ward side of the main sail, thus placing good solid, wind-resisting canvas in the long open slit that normally exists between the mast and mainsail.

The reason for the handicap in favor of the American boat is that Shamrock carries approximately 1,600 square feet more canvas than her rival, which gives her a decided advantage in a boat-for-boat comparison. The official measurements of the two vessels follow:

Sail area, Shamrock, 10,459.4 square feet; Resolute 8,775 square feet.

Length over all: Shamrock, 110.38; Resolute, 106.34 feet.

Length on water: Shamrock, 75; Resolute, 74.97.

Quarter beam length penalty: Shamrock, 3.97 feet; Resolute, 1.23 feet.

Racing length: Shamrock, 78.97 feet; Resolute, 76.20 feet.

Displacement: Shamrock, 3,879 cubic feet; Resolute, 3,650 cubic feet.

Draught penalty: Shamrock, 0.58 feet; Resolute, 0 feet.

Rating measurements: Shamrock, 94.4 feet; Resolute, 83.5 feet.

With three out of five races needed to win the cup, the race committee announced tonight that tomorrow's, Saturday's and Tuesday's races will be held as scheduled, but that after that date the yachts would race every day. This rule, however, will be subject to modification at the request of either skipper, who will have the privilege of requesting a day of rest between races. Final decision will lay with the committee.

The start of tomorrow's contest is scheduled to be made at noon from the Ambrose channel lightship. The course, thirty miles in length, will not be announced until just before the start, but the rules call for a windward and leeward course for the first, third and fifth races. The second and fourth are to be over a triangular course.

Among celebrities who will watch British seamanship matched against American are Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, and Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States.

Mr. Roosevelt will be aboard a destroyer and Sir Auckland on the steam yatcht Victoria, a guest of Sir Thomas Lipton.

Bob Jones Carries Atlanta Hopes in Western Tourney; Three Atlantans Lose Out

BY HERBERT CALDWELL.

Memphis, Tenn., July 14.—(Special.)—Old Gus H. Surprise took his mashie niblick down off the rack today and started shooting. As a consequence, the third round of match play in the Western Amateur golf championship, beginning Thursday morning over the Memphis Country club course, finds such notables as Perry Adair, Atlanta; James Manion, St. Louis; Tom Prescott, Atlanta, and Richard Bockenkamp, St. Louis, on the outside looking in.

Adair, Manion and Bockenkamp have all had experience in the national amateur. Over in Atlanta they are beginning to rate Prescott next to Bobby Jones, but yesterday none of these stars was able to survive the first round.

With the exceptions instanced above, the remaining members of the smart set came through the first and second round matches without serious mishap. Bobby Jones, Atlanta, won both of his matches handily. So did Chick Evans, Chicagoan.

Bobby vs. Chick.

It's a better bet than ever now that Chick and Bob will come together in the match that will practically settle the championship tomorrow. Both will have fairly stiff matches over a 36-hole test today. Jones meeting C. W. Hubby, Jr., of Dallas, and Evans playing Jimmy Ward, of Kansas City.

The dope presages victories for the headliners by reasonably comfortable margins. Today was an eventful day for the golfers whose names begin with "W." Henry Wenzler, the Memphis champion; Jimmy Ward, the Kansas City collegian; Burt Wilber, the Indianapolis champion, and Clarence Wolf, of St. Louis, were among the day's two-match winners. Wenzler and Wilber were the authors of two staggering upsets. The young Memphian wrote a glorious chapter in his golfing record when he eliminated Perry Adair, and Wilber set the gallery to chattering when he downed Dick Bockenkamp, the St. Louis juvenile, whose game on the two preceding days was strong enough to warrant the prediction that he would reach the finals.

Incidentally, these two results served to illustrate the unimportance of a qualifying round as a means of determining the class of the competitive field. Adair outshot Wenzler by 11 strokes in the medal struggle; Bockenkamp, runner-up to Jones, the medalist, finished 16 strokes better than Wilber, the man who whipped him in the first round of match play. Wenzler's victory over Adair placed him against Douglas Tweedie, of Chicago, in the afternoon, and again Wenzler won 3 and 1.

Wilber won the longest match the championship flight has developed so far, a 19-holer, from Walter Kossman of St. Louis.

Next to Wenzler Jimmy Ward is the youngest player in the pack. In the beginning of fight it looked as if Jimmy would have trouble qualifying, but a magnificent second round effort brought him along all right. He bowled over the noted Tom Prescott and just to convince the folks he is a big leaguer he trounced M. J. Conde, of the Country club 3 and 2. Ward took the lead at the outset and was never downed. He was two up at the turn. The match ended at the sixteenth hole.

The gallery match of the day was the one which brought Wolff, of St. Louis, and R. E. Knepper, of Sioux City, together. These two are pretty evenly gifted with golfing talents, an da sizzling duel was promised. Wolff won, 3 and 2.

F. A. Limberg, of St. Louis, was responsible for one of the morning round setbacks through his elimination of Manion. But it did him little good, for C. W. Hubby, Jr., of Dallas, knocked him off in the afternoon by decisive figures, 6 and 5. Hubby went out in a fairly presentable 39 and speeded up coming back, being two under fours for the four holes needed to end the altercation. Bobby Jones won his afternoon match from G. M. McConnell, of Chicago, 7 and 5. Bobby did not continue to play in his record-breaking stride, largely because it was not necessary; but he did quite well, if you must know the truth. Aside from being off the line with several of his drives, the southern champion's game retained most of the class that distinguished him on Monday and Tuesday.

Chick Evans drew W. B. Sparks, of Terre Haute, as his afternoon opponent and as was expected won without a great deal of trouble, though Sparks gave the Chicagoan an interesting time of it. The margin was 3 and 2. Chick was never down. He was out in 38 and had a birdie three on one and a birdie three on four.

Next to the dashing setbacks sustained by several of the favorites, the feature of the morning play was the match between Jimmy Ward, of Kansas City, and Tom Prescott, the Atlanta siege gunner. The intercollegiate runner-up was three down at the turn. Starting the second nine with a birdie two, he proceeded to win the next three holes in order, squaring the match. Prescott got his four on the 13th and was one up. Ward retrieved the advantage by winning the 14th. The 15th was halved in poorly played fives. Ward went into the lead by winning the short 16th with a par three, but missed his chance to cinch the match by using up five strokes on the next hole. Prescott getting a birdie three. However, Ward's strong game was not to be denied, and a birde three on the 18th, beating a par four, settled the issue.

There was nothing flukey about young Wenzler's win over his more distinguished opponent, Adair. The Memphis champion was back on his game and Adair's best was not good enough to match it. Wenzler led both in stroke and match play 2 up at the turn.

Parks, who followed, fared little better and gave way to Marks in the eighth. Mitchell, of the locals, had a perfect day at bat, getting two singles and a double and a triple out of four attempts. Scott Improving Record.

Boston, July 14.—Everett Scott, crack shortstop of the Red Sox today played his six hundredth consecutive game. He had recently passed all records for consecutive play. The infielder started his unbroken participation in games of the Boston club on June 20, 1918.

FRANKMEN CELEBRATE WITH REST

When the Southern circuit moguls were doping out the 1920 schedule, they hardly foresaw the contingency of the Crackers lacerating the Barons' pride with a dual drubbing on the same afternoon. Manager Cholly Frank might have been a seer when the Crackers' playing dates were being made out and he wished to reward his denizens of the diamond with a day of rest. Whatever were the causes of this trick of fate, the reward will be granted and the Atlanta players will be free to pass their afternoon according to their inclinations and Poncy will likewise be free.

After a lapse of twenty-four hours, the freshened team, with the lassitude of Wednesday's double bill swept away by the day's rest, will have another foe to face, the Mobile Bruins, with revenge in their hearts and rankling with the shame of a series lost without as much as a game to their credit on their last appearance. If the Bears will be strong on account of their desires for revenge, the Crackers will likewise bear the strength, occasioned by their safe conduit to place No. 3 in the Southern standing and at a position just an arm's length from the top.

The Bears will be in Atlanta Friday and Saturday, this series ending the Crackers' stay at home. The luggage will then be mobilized and the Atlantans' freight will be hauled to New Orleans for a four-day halt and the consequent four games.

Charlotte Adopts Strong Measures With Semi-Pros

Charlotte, N. C., July 14.—Drastic steps to check the inroads being made into the ranks of professional baseball players in organized leagues in the south were taken here today when P. Meehan, promoter of an independent club at Chesterfield, S. C., was arrested on a charge of soliciting labor without a license.

Meehan was arrested under a city ordinance requiring a license fee of $300 of all persons from outside Mecklenburg county who solicit labor here.

Charges were preferred by officials of the Charlotte club of the South Atlantic league after Meehan is said to have made overtures to two of the club's players. Incidentally the license fee for such solicitors will be $2.500 after tomorrow when the newly-adopted ordinance goes into effect.

Meehan was released on $400 bond for appearance in municipal court tomorrow.

STREET CARS HIT AND THREE PEOPLE RECEIVE INJURIES

A collision last night between a Pine street car and a Peachtree-Piedmont park car, on the corner of Peachtree and Pine streets, resulted in slight injuries to three people—I. L. Davis, Will Pritchard and Mr. Goldstein. None of these were seriously hurt, merely sustaining minor bruises and cuts about the hands and scratches on the face. Both cars were considerably damaged, especially the Pine street car, which is said to have run into the Peachtree-Piedmont park car, the latter having stopped suddenly.

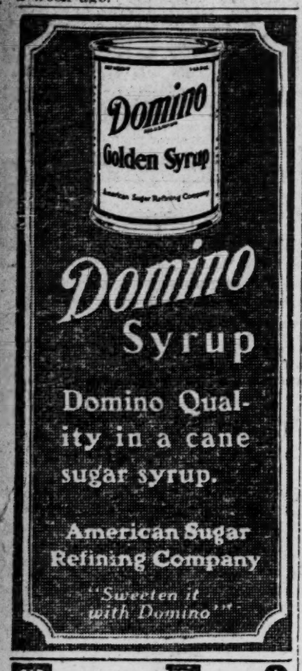
STREET DEVELOPMENT WILL BE DISCUSSED

Street development operations in the Eleventh ward will be one of the most important matters to be taken up at the meeting of the Eleventh Ward Improvement club, which will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at Bramblett's store on Whiteford avenue. A full attendance is requested by the secretary, Homer C. Denton, who states that the club is anxious to co-operate with the city in resuming work on the streets, which was discontinued a week ago.



COMPENSATION BILL FOR WORKMEN FAVORED

Representatives of Capital and Labor Urge Its Passage.

The house committee on commerce and labor Wednesday afternoon acted favorably upon the workman's compensation bill, recommending that the measure be passed by the house. This bill, which is now in the senate, carries with it the endorsement of both the Georgia Manufacturers association and the Georgia Federation of Labor.

Appearing for the passage of the bill was Robert S. Parker, representing the Georgia Manufacturers association, who made a vigorous appeal for the measure. He explained the meaning of the bill at length and urged its committee to report it favorably.

Mr. Parker was followed by W. P. Raoul, president of the Georgia Federation of Labor, who joined his appeal for the favorable action of the committee to that of Mr. Parker. Commissioner of Commerce and Labor H. M. Stanley, who also favors the bill, was present.

The commerce and labor committee acted adversely upon House Bill 870, by Mr. Milton, of Dodge, creating the offices of two labor agents for the department of labor, and providing the necessary compensation. This bill provided for two labor agents to assist in enforcing the present law with reference to emigrant labor agents.

The committee also reported adversely upon a bill by Mr. Lawrence, of Chatham, which provided for examination for license of plumbers, and for a plumbing inspector in cities where waterworks and sewerage exist.

Bartow County Pig Club Boys and Girls To Enjoy Big Picnic

Meadowview farm, 5 miles from Cartersville, will be the scene, on July 21, of the annual picnic of the Bartow County Pig club. This is perhaps the oldest pig club in the state, and upon the occasion of the annual picnic, always held at Meadowview farm, the home of Ruohs Pyron, an opportunity is afforded for the gathering of all the boys and girls of the county who are interested in raising pigs and live stock.

The picnic precedes an annual sale of pure-bred Berkshire hogs, which is attended not only by hundreds of live-stock raisers over the south, but by nationally known breeders and writers.

Among the prominent speakers will be L. E. Frost, editor of The Btrkshire World, of Chicago; James E. Downing, field secretary of the American Berkshire association; G. F. Hunnicutt, editor of The Southern Cultivator, Atlanta; J. W. Vaughan, of the Bank of Cartersville, and others.

FIVE GEORGIANS WILL BE ADMITTED TO BAR

Five successful applicants for admission to the state bar will be sworn in this morning at 10 o'clock by Judge W. R. Ellis in the Fulton superior court. Those passing the bar examination, which was held by Judge Ellis, June 30, are R. G. Stephens, J. W. Parker, Clarence B. Pearce, John M. Greer and S. W. Florence. Fifteen applicants took the examination, which it is understood, was one of the most difficult ever given. Out of the fifteen only five succeeded in passing.

CHARGE SUGAR FRAUD; STEPHENS IS SOUGHT

H. B. Stephens, who recently operated on Auburn avenue under the firm name of the Georgia Brokerage company, is being sought by agents of the department of justice, who have received complaints that he advertised and sold sugar in south Georgia for cash in advance, then failed to make deliveries.

It is alleged that during the June sugar shortage advertisements appeared in several south Georgia newspapers stating that the Georgia Brokerage company, 10½ Auburn avenue, Atlanta, had for sale three carloads of sugar at 25 cents per pound. A minimum order of twenty-five pounds for cash accompanying the order was required. Numerous customers claim they ordered sugar from the advertisements, sending cash with their orders, but that they have not received the sugar as promised.

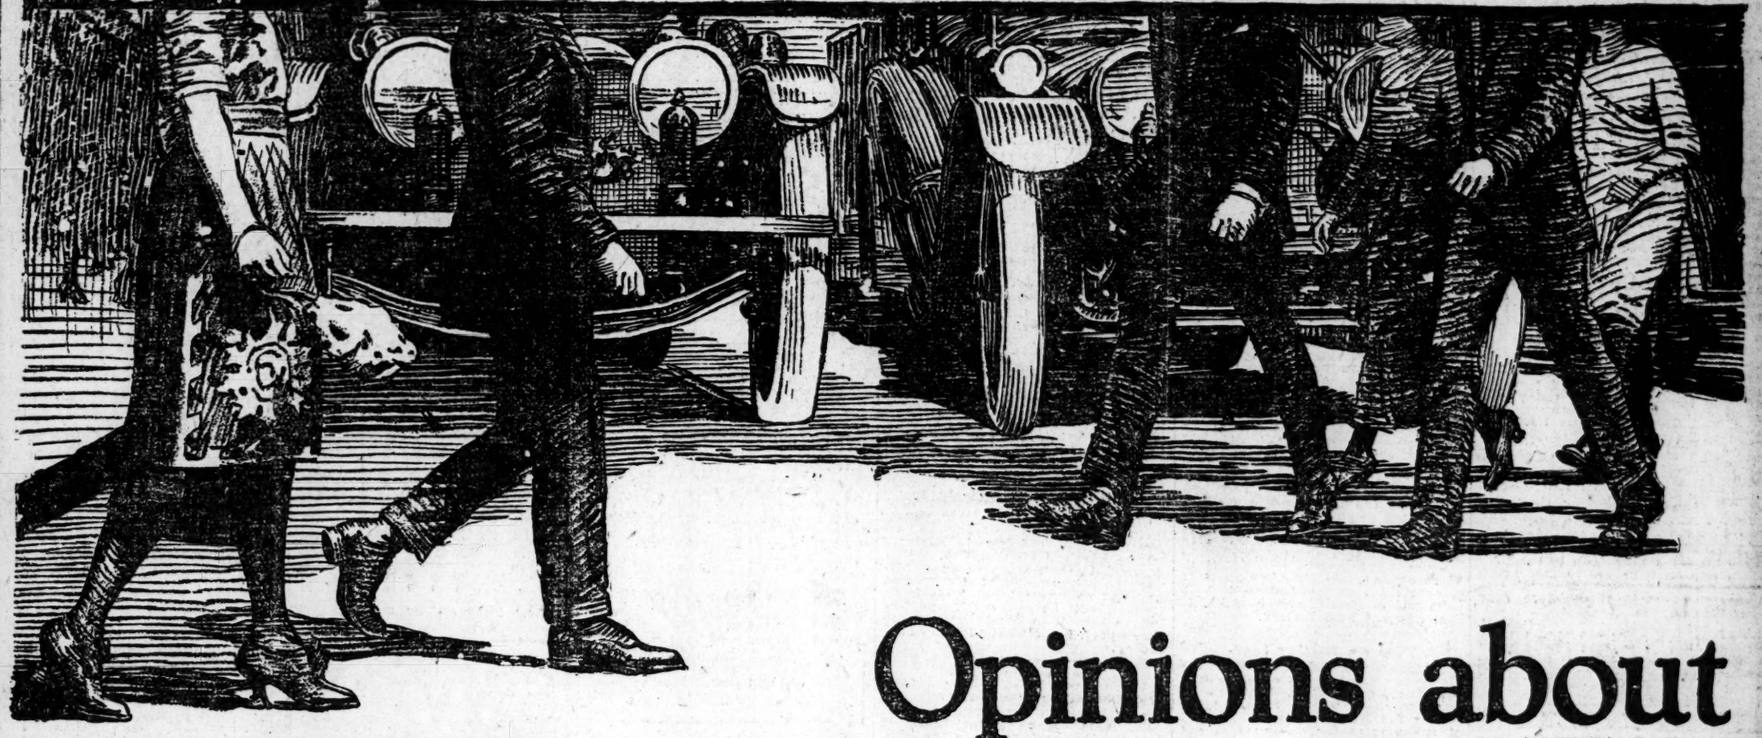
ELECT HUFF MAYOR



The tire on the left-hand car in the picture illustrates the cause of about 75 per cent of all tire trouble—insufficient inflation.

The pressure recommended by the manufacturer of your tire is the best to follow—and it cannot be estimated by kicking the tire or punching it. The regular use of a reliable air-gauge is the best safeguard against rim cutting and fabric breakdown.

Opinions about Tires should be Weighed as well as Counted

THERE is hardly a motorist who hasn't at some time or other in his experience had a tire dealer attempt to sell him a tire by representing it as the fastest seller in town.

More attempts are probably made to sell tires by playing to the motorist's alleged weakness for "crowd of buyers" than by any other known method of selling.

The experienced motorist, of course, refuses to surrender his individual judgment to any crowd or mass of whatever size.

Too often he has seen the results of accepting opinions at their face value, without first finding out what they are based on.

And you will find him going more and more to the dealer who has something to offer in support of his tires, other than "crowds of buyers" and "numbers of sales."

The opinion in favor of U. S. Tires is not based solely on the number of them in use.

Great as that number is, it is due to something besides clever arguments.

Thousands of motorists today are putting up with second choice tires because forced production is inconsistent with U. S. standard of quality.

The United States Rubber Company's enormous investment—greater than that of any concern in the industry—has always been aimed solely at quality.

Building a tire first and a market afterwards. Thinking of the individual user instead of the number of sales.

One of the reasons, perhaps, why there is now a scarcity of U. S. Tires.

If the time ever comes when U. S. Tires can be supplied to all, or nearly all, of the people who want them, they will still have more to recommend them than merely the largest following.

The car owner who seeks United States standards in tubes is well paid in more mileage for his tires. U. S. Red Tubes. U. S. Grey Tubes.

FIFTH WARD PLANNING FOR LIVELY GATHERING

With all the candidates for municipal officers in the Fifth ward invited to be present and speak, a lively session of the Fifth Ward Improvement club, which will meet tonight at 8 o'clock at the English Avenue school, is expected. Councilman J. A. Couch and his opponent, Foster Hunter, and Dr. W. M. Etheridge, incumbent, and his opponent, L. O. Nichols, have been invited to address the meeting.

W. H. LEE NOMINATED FOR COUNCIL IN NINTH

Will H. Lee, well-known citizen of the Ninth ward and a member of the firm of Lee & Sadler Co., merchandise brokers, was nominated for city council Wednesday by a delegation of approximately fifty Ninth ward citizens meeting at the Piedmont hotel. He accepted the nomination, and late Wednesday he qualified for the primary by paying his entrance fee.

Arthur Brooke, nominated Tuesday night at a meeting of business men to run for councilman for the Ninth ward, announced Wednesday that on account of the pressure of business he would be unable to accept the nomination.

Aged Woman Injured.

Americus, Ga., July 14.—(Special.) Seized with a spell of vertigo, Mrs. Rebecca Braswell, aged 92 years, fell upon her front porch here and sustained injuries which may result in her death. Mrs. Braswell, who lives entirely alone in her little home near the city limits on McGarrah street, had her right arm dislocated and her spine seriously hurt in her fall, and since she persists in remaining at her home, it is feared she will die from lack of proper attention.

THREE ARE SEEKING TIMMERMAN'S PLACE

Americus, Ga., July 14.—(Special.) Sam A. Rodgers, of Sumter; John D. Williams, of the seventeenth district; W. T. Anderson, of Leslie, and Gordon Howell, of Americus, are all being mentioned as candidates to succeed E. Timmerman, one of Sumter's representatives in the general assembly, who, it is stated, will not be a candidate for re-election. Stephen Pace, Sumter's other representative, it is said, will succeed himself. His record as a legislator has made him many friends here, and a number of laws enacted through his efforts have already done much to advance agricultural and other interests in this community.

Anderson, who is cashier of the Bank of Leslie, seems universally acceptable, if he could be persuaded to make the race, and in that event he probably would have no active opposition. Howell is commander of the local American Legion post, and it is known has given careful consideration to the matter of entering the lists; Rodgers and Williams are both prominent farmers living in the western portion of Sumter county, and each has many friends who would support his candidacy.

Many Casualties In Anti-Slav Riot In Trieste Wednesday

Trieste, July 14.—Unbridled vandalism reigned in Trieste today and this evening during anti-Slav demonstrations. Three persons were killed and scores were wounded while damages estimated at more than $1,000,000 resulted from the burning or wrecking of buildings, including banks, stores and office property belonging to Jugo-Slavs.

Everything with a semblance of Jugo-Slav ownership was ruined. Bombs and inflammables were used by the mobs in their work.

Francis Flynn, of San Antonio, Texas, was in a hotel which was burned, but escaped without injury.

WOOD WILL MAKE RACE FOR COUNCIL IN SECOND

At a recent meeting of citizens of the Second ward, J. O. Wood, young attorney, was nominated to make the race for councilman from the Second ward in opposition to O. K. Ellis, who has already announced. Mr. Wood is chairman of the Second Ward Improvement club and a well-known citizen of the ward. Mr. Wood and Mr. Ellis are seeking to succeed Dr. A. H. Cochran whose term as councilman expires this year.

Closed very steady.

New York, July 14.—The persistent strength of the old crop spot position and the failure of bearish new crop reports to inspire selling led to an active covering movement in the cotton market during today's later trading. October contracts sold up from 33.38 to 34.10, or 73 points net higher, while July made another new high record for the life of the contract, selling at 41.35, or 105 points net higher. The close was within a few points of the best, showing net advances of 105 to 163 points on July and August, while later deliveries were 15 to 80 points on July and August, while later deliveries were 15 to 80 points net higher.

The market opened steady at an advance of 65 points on July and of 5 to 26 points on the later months, but late months eased off from the best during the middle of the day owing to a mid-month condition report of 74.4 against 71.1 toward the end of June and the very favorable showing of the weekly weather report.

The census report showing domestic mill consumption of 555,521 bales for June was considered favorable, however, and when the bearish weekly crop review failed to bring in any aggressive selling, shorts in the earlier new crop months evidently became anxious.

There was also buying of October by sellers of long July contracts and some trade buying of December. That delivery sold up from 31.63, the low level to 32.35, with active new crop positions showing net advances of 37 to 73 points in the late trading.

Wire houses with southern connections were among the more active buyers of October during the afternoon and Japanese interests were also credited with buying that position.

STRONG MARKET IN NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, July 14.—Strong advances were made by cotton today as the result of the too frequent mention of the boll weevil in the weekly crop reports, numerous showers in the belt and the forecast of more to come, leading to the fear that weevil damage would be increased. The market was given a good undertone by the census bureau report showing American consumption for June of 555,521 bales against 541,080 in May of this year and 474,330 in June of last year, thereby discrediting private reports of a great slowing down in textile trade. Highest prices were reached late in the session when the trading months were 45 to 82 points over the close of yesterday, with October at 33.55. Last prices were at net gains for the day of 43 to 67 points.

In the early trading there was a rise of 19 o 28 points, stimulated by much better cables than due and reports of scattered showers in the belt. A private bureau report of 74.4 per cent of normal was regarded in a bullish light. The rise was checked by expectations of bearish weekly crop reports and prices dropped off to levels 2 points over to 8 points under the close of yesterday after the reports were out. They were at first regarded as very bearish, but after they were digested they caused much buying. The census bureau report was little support to the market at first, but its influence grew as the session progressed.

LAPROBE CLEW LEADS TO ARREST

Macon, Ga., July 14.—(Special.) The fact that laprobes are not in common use at this time of the year, with the mercury hovering between 90 and 100 degrees in the middle of the day, was responsible for the arrest of Arthur Chapman, a Bigg county farmer, on a charge of violating the prohibition law.

Prohibition agents who were riding along the Forsyth road observed that Chapman had laprope thrown over something in the seat of his buggy. They decided to stop him and when they lifted the robe they found a five-gallon glass container filled with moonshine whisky. Chapman had previously been arrested for having whisky and was out under a $500 bond. An additional bond of $1,000 has been assessed against him.

Damage by Windstorm.

Spokane, Wash., July 14.—A violent windstorm, accompanied by a cloudburst, wrecked buildings and did damage to grain which will run into hundreds of thousands of dollars all over the Patouse district of southeastern Washington last night. Pullman, Winona, Wawawai, Union Flats and a half dozen other towns in Washington reported farm houses unroofed and barns demolished. No loss of life was reported.

Cotton Consumed In Month of June Shows Big Increase

Washington, July 14.—Cotton consumed in the cotton-growing states was 56.4 per cent of the country's total consumption during June, compared with 54.4 per cent a year ago, the census bureau's monthly report today disclosed. There was increased consumption both in the cotton-growing states and the rest of the country, compared with a year ago, but the increasein the southern states was double that of the remainder of the country.

Active cotton spindles during June showed an increase of 553,396, of which 539,748 were in cotton-growing states.

Cotton consumed during June amoutned to 555,521 ales of lint and 33,960 of linters, the census bureau announced today.

During June, a year ago, 474,330 bales of line and 15,083 of linters were consumed.

Cotton on hand June 30 in consuming establishments was 1,554,923 bales of lint and 270,171 of linters, compared with 1,363,048 bales of lint and 263,804 of linters a year ago, and in public storage and at compresses, 2,304,639 bales of lint and 374,648 of linters, comapred with 2,765,771 of lint and 207,781 of linters a year ago.

June imports were 19,635 bales, compared with 17,269 in June, 1919, and exports were 241,450 bales, including 3,860 bales of linters, compared with 690,160 of lint and 3,710 of linters in June last year.

Cotton spindles active during June numbered 34,503,757, compared with 33,950,358 in June a year ago.

July statistics for cotton-growing states are:

Consumed, 313,474 bales, compared with 258,820 in June last year.

On hand June 30 in consuming establishments, 757,304, compared with 258,820 in June last year, and at compresses, 1,956,498, compared with 2,511,356.

Cotton spindles active during June numbered 15,081,044, compared with 14,541,296 in June a year ago.

Prime winter yellow and summer white nominal.

Dry Goods.

New York, July 14.—Spot business in wash fabrics increased today because of high prices asked for spring goods. Cottons generally were quiet; yarns easier, wool goods dull and underwear very dull. New lines of silk hosiery were offered for spring at price concessions of 33 1-3 per cent. Burlaps were quiet, June shipments from Calcutta being placed at 104,000,000 yards.

PROFESSIONAL VIEWS ON COTTON SITUATION

New York, July 14.—(Special.)—Although July notices estimated at 2,200 bales circulated today, they made little or no impression, the price of July advancing to a new high record for the life of the contract, and although the weekly weather report was fully as favorable as expected and the mid-month report of the Southern Products company showed improvement of 3.3 points or the first half of the period, the strength of the spot option had a sustaining influence on the later months and the market held firm all day and in the late afternoon advanced sharply on active short covering and trade demand. For the next few days we look for the advance to continue, and would therefore make purchases, particularly on reactions. JOHNSTON BROS.

New York, July 14.—(Special.)—Imby Manchester spinners caused a sharply higher Liverpool market this morning. Our market did not fully respond, as the trade expected a favorable weekly weather report and consequently held in the consumption of its publication. Offers were well absorbed, however, as the consumption figures for June were some 60,000 bales larger than last week. While the weekly weather was generally favorable, the details showed more weevil damage than had been expected. This market then rallied and began to advance as Wall street shorts began to cover. We anticipate a further advance, especially as reports from the dry goods market show some better inquiry. HUBBARD BROS. & CO.

Seven Trainloads Peaches and Melons Pass Through Macon

Macon, Ga., July 14.—(Special.)—The peak of the peach and melon movement up to the present time was reached last night when seven solid trainloads of these Georgia products passed through Macon en route to the markets of the north and east. The shipment of peaches was the heaviest of the year, totaling 250 cars. Still heavier shipments are looked for as the Elbertas have not yet begun to move. Up to today the shipments of peaches have totaled 2,600 cars; canteloupes, fifty-six cars and watermelons, 1,395 cars.

SMALLER VOLUME OF STOCK SALES

New York, July 14.—Almost the only material differtnce between today's desultory operations on the stock exchange and those of the preceding sessions of the week were the smaller volume of dealings and the more erratic movement of prices.

Apart from the weakness of exchange on London, which found sympathy in expression in lower rates to continental European capitals, there appeared to be no developments of sufficient importance to deflect the active list from its recent course.

Dealers in exchange ascribed the break in British bills to heavy offerings by exporters of foodstuffs who were forced to meet domestic obligations maturing tomorrow. Today's low rates for cable and demand Sterling were about 6 cents under the high quotations of the early days of the month.

Withdrawal tomorrow of some $20,000,000 of local treasury deposits in connection with payments on certificates of indebtedness and other obligations caused no disturbance of call money rates, which remained firm at 8 per cent, although interior banks continued to reduce their reserves. The supply of time money was again at the vanishing point.

Several of the high-grade coalers made substantial gains on revival of the time-worn rumor of an early distribution of "hidden assets," but final prices showed a mixture of fractional gains and losses, the latter predominating.

The one encouraging news item was the report of the Lackawanna Steel company for the year's second quarter, showing profits of about $1,882,000 against a deficit of $233,000 in the same quarter of 1919.

Liberty bonds again wavered, but other domestic as well as foreign issues were steady. Total sales, par value, aggregated $10,575,000.

Old United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WATERMELON PRICES REPORTED FALLING

Waycross, Ga., July 14.—(Special.) Reports reaching Waycross today show that the melon market is rapidly falling. In the Ty Ty, Omega and other sections the best grade of melons are reported at $115 and $125 per car, a considerable drop from the prices quoted the previous week. Melons in the Omega section have sold for as much as $450 this season. The car shortage is still hampering the shipments to a great extent, but the railroads state that conditions along this line are rapidly improving.

Sugar.

New York, July 14.—The local market for raw sugar was a little easier with holders more inclined to meet the ideas of buyers. Previously to this week, both Cuba and Porto Rico had been holding slightly above the prices bid by refiners, but the continued offerings from outside sources at below the Cuban figures caused considerable anxiety, and today there was more disposition on the part of holders to make sales. The day's business amounted to about 150,000 bags of Cubas and Porto Ricos from prompt and July shipments at 17½, cost and freight, for the Cubas and 18.56 for the Porto Ricos, with more available at the close without being taken. The market closed at 17½ cents for Cubas, cost and freight, equal to 18.56 centrifugal.

The demand for refined sugar is only moderate, and prices at unchanged at 22 to 24 cents for fine granulated. It is reported that one leading refiner is accepting orders for January, February and March allotments at 17 cents.

Trading in sugar futures was very quiet and prices were easier. Closing prices were 30 to 35 points net lower.

HEAVY SELLING DEPRESSES CORN

Chicago, July 14.—Heavy selling associated with weather conditions likely to minimize black rust damage brought about sharp declines today in the corn market. The close was nervous, ⅝ to 3½c net lower. Oats finished ⅛ to 3⅝c down, and provisions off 35c to $1.35.

At first the corn market had an upward slant. On the advance, however, selling became unusually aggressive and buying support gave out. Simultaneously word came from crop experts that the cool temperatures in the spring wheat belt promised to keep rust damage to small proportions.

Much liquidation on the part of holders resulted and prices went as low as 5 cents under yesterday's finish. Then something of a rally took place, influenced by opinions that the setback was more than sufficient for the time being.

Oats, like corn, were forced down by the weight of selling pressure on the market.

Immense stocks on hand here with absence of foreign demand led to acute weakness in provisions, especially pork.

POSSES SURROUND ESCAPED CONVICTS

Six Negroes Beat Guard and Marshal and Create Excitement.

Friar Point, Miss., July 14.—Six escaped Arkansas negro convicts, said to be well armed, are tonight believed to be surrounded in a wood near this place. Posses are on guard and will await daybreak it is said, before seekin gto drive the negroes from their hiding place.

The negroes were working with a road gang just south of Helena, Ark., today when they attacked their guard, Walter Cowan, white, and beat him unconscious. Taking his gun and $50 he had on his person they fled north several miles until they forced a negro boatman to row them across the Mississippi river to this place.

Soon after they had landed here telephone messages were received from the Arkansas side of the river telling of their escape. John Mullino, city marshal of Friar Point, started on the trail of the men. They jumped out from a hiding place on the roadside and beat him into insensibility, taking his gun and continuing their flight.

A general alarm was given and posses of citizens and officers formed. Officers from Arkansas also are in the party which has the woods surrounded.

OPTIMISTIC TONE IN BRADSTREET'S REGULAR REPORT

An optimistic outlook on the trade conditions in Atlanta is contained in the weekly report of the Bradstreet company, as telegraphed on Thursday by the local office to the company's trade journal, a copy of which follows:

"Wholesale and retail trade is quiet. Jobbers say retailers are buying with extreme caution, although cancellations appear to be less. Marked down sales continue and reductions in men's furnishings are almost general.

"A very satisfactory business is being done in general hardware and farming implements with prices high. Collections are generally slow and many accounts are reaching attorney's hands. Building is active and all materials are high. Real estate is also active and numerous transfers are being made daily.

"The warm weather with occasional showers has been very beneficial to all growing crops. Cotton especially is doing well and fruiting fast. Weevils are doing some damage in certain sections but the prospect for cotton is very much improved.

"Corn is doing well, although army worms have appeared in many places and are doing damage. Peanuts and field peas are making satisfactory progress. Extra large crops of sweet potatoes have been planted.

"Fruit crops, especially peaches, will be reduced, although high prices will more than offset shortage. Some brown rot is reported."

Marshal Foch Sent Message to Legion On Bastile Day

Americans who spent July 14 in France have a keen recollection of the high spirit of celebration that runs rife in that land on that day—celebrated as the anniversary of the fall of the bastile. So enthusiastic are the Parisians about the proper celebration that the Champs Elysee is lined the night before with sleeping forms who wish to awake in close view of the mammoth parade and pageant which is the chief feature of the ceremonies of the day.

The American legion, through its commander, Franklin D'Olfer, Wednesday sent a message to Marshal Foch and the pollus of France—a reply to the message sent the leggion on July 4. The message follows:

"The American Legion, on this anniversary of the fall of the Bastille, through myself as national commander, extends the same hand of fellowship today that the French citizen-soldier grasped but yesterday.

"Our regard is based on deeper sentiment than mere association in arms. America's youth came to France impressed with the story of your wonderful achievements. We were not disillusioned. We found that France suffered with a smile on her lips; laughed in the jaws of death; held to her traditional courtesy and chivalry at the very time when the foe pounded with coarse fists at the gates of Paris.

"There may come a time when jealous hands will seek to sever the bonds that unite France and America. Such a thing never can be accomplished. We of the world war know France and her fine soul. We have been blood brothers and we will be peace brothers."

OFFICIAL DESTROYER MAKES RECORD TIME

Washington, July 14.—Piloted by Admiral Hugh Rodman, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, the destroyer on which Secretary Daniels and Secretary Payne left Seattle last Saturday, reached Katchikan, Alaska, in the record time of thirty-six hours, cutting five hours off the previous best time for that run, according to a dispatch received today at the navy department.

Through the narrow, rock-bound channels of the inland passage, at night, the destroyer was pushed at a speed of twenty knots, the dispatch said. While the prevous best time was forty-one hours, few ships have made the trip in less than fifty-two hours.

Seaboard Conductor Hurt.

Americus, Ga., July 14.—(Special.) H. S. Barton, a well-known Seaboard railroad conductor, was painfully hurt yesterday afternoon at Huntington, when in attempting to board a freight car to ride a short distance he missed his footing and was thrown violently to the ground. In falling, his head struck a crosstie and three arteries were severed, resulting in profuse bleeding. A physician who chanced to be in the vicinity attended him and succeeded in stopping the flow of blood.

$12 PER WEEK PAID
WHILE YOU LEARN

WOMEN who enter telephone work are not limited to the actual work of operating at the switchboard. Those who are ambitious and display energy and ability may advance rapidly to positions paying salaries of $150 per month and more.

One out of every nine young women in the telephone service occupies a supervisory position, and in Atlanta the salaries for such positions are from $65 per month and up.

A number of high-grade young women are needed in Atlanta to augment the operating force. From these will be selected many for supervisory positions, at attractive salaries, as required by growth and improvements.

Women of superior education need not hesitate about entering telephone work. Their advancement and remuneration will be measured by their ability, as is attested by the many college women now in Bell telephone service.

The conditions under which telephone work is done are ideal. The operating rooms are clean, well ventilated, well lighted and well heated.

The rest rooms are attractive and comfortable. The dining rooms are bright spots of cleanliness and the kitchens are among the most sanitary in Atlanta.

The food is of the best quality, daintily served at actual cost.

Well-known and experienced women act as matrons and devote their effort toward safeguarding the health and comfort of the young women.

Annual vacations are given with full pay, and there is protection from financial loss in case of sickness.

Twelve dollars per week is paid when you enter the training class.

Visit one of the exchanges with your mother or friends and investigate the work and surroundings and then apply to Miss Bell, 25 Auburn avenue, for enrollment in our next training course.

COX NOTIFICATION TO BE AT TRAIL'S END

"I recognize the eagerness of the gentlemen of the press who are assigned here to develop news copy daily. I have no disposition to discourage that enterprise, but at the very outset, it is well that we have this understanding of a very fundamental phase of the present situation.

"Senator Harding has made two definite announcements: that he proposes to hark back to the days of thirty years ago, and that he will make of his front porch a listening post. This means that he will be as far removed from the running current of progressive thought as the senatorial oligarchy of Lodge and Penrose and Smoot has been removed from the heart beats of the American people for a year or more.

"My campaign will be dedicated to the task of bringing peace with honor of readjusting the affairs of civilization and of creating a new day out of which we will make the best of the lessons of the past. Therefore, the things that the senator believes vital and pertinent from his isolated perspective, will not, in all probability, be so regarded by me. His last statement is but a reiteration of what has been said in the senate time after time, so that if this campaign on the one hand develops into more morning sessions of the senate, you will very readily perceive the uselessness of daily response."

TRYING TO FOG ISSUE, ROOSEVELT CLAIMS.

Hyde Park, N. Y., July 14. — Franklin D. Roosevelt, replying at his home here today to the charge of Senator Harding that President Wilson had forced the democratic presidential nominees to accept his views that the league of nations should become the dominant campaign issue, declared he was willing, as I know Governor Cox is, to let the American people decide whether they will go back to the conditions of 1914 or whether they will join with civilization and humanity in this great step forward."

"The attempt by Senator Harding yesterday," he said, "to befog the true league of nations issue by dragging in the name of President Wilson is merely further evidence of the historical fact that a certain type of senatorial mind cares more about squaring an ancient grudge against an individual than it does to consider the true welfare of the nation. It is, of course, well known that seven-eighths of the opposition of these senators is not to the league of nations, but to the person of the president of the United States himself."

"History will take care of the great part Woodrow Wilson has played. But the democratic party enters the campaign with the clear-cut purpose of proving that the world war has not been fought in vain. Senator Harding says: 'Should the democrats win, the treaty and the league will be ratified.' He is right. No one, probably not even Senator Harding himself, knows what would happen should the republicans win. One branch of his supporters, such as Senator Hiram Johnson, assures the nation that a republican victory means no league of nations. Another branch, led by such men as former President Taft, assures the nation that a republican victory means the acceptance of the league with certain undefined reservations.

"The rest of Senator Harding's statement is the usual vague, summoning forth of bogies and imaginary ghosts of horrible pictures of American soldier boys waging war in Poland, Russia and Turkey; and at the end he talks in glittering terms about the charge of a 'surrender of the republic.'

"I yield nothing in my devotion to the United States to Senator Harding, to Senator Penrose, to Senator Johnson, or to any of their followers. Rather I believe they are the ones to fail to visualize the great future and the independent future of this nation.

"One of the prominent issues is thus becoming early and clearly drawn. A democratic victory means ratification of the treaty and the league of nations, which, as the world knows, is already constituted. A republican victory means that the United Sttaes, with Russia, Mexico and Turkey, shall remain outside. The election of Harding means that in case of future war the United States will enter the war after the conflict has begun. The election of Cox means that the United States in participation with the other civilized nations of the world, will, through the league of nations, solve international difficulties and prevent a recurrence of the holocaust of 1914-1918."

gia and are now residents of Atlanta, South Carolina comes next in the matter of birthplaces for Atlantans, being the native state of 9,271 local people. Next to that state is Alabama, the sister state on our western side, having been the place where 7,... of our citizens first saw the light of day. In fairly rapid succession after those came Tennessee, with 3,701; North Carolina, with 3,207; Virginia, with 2,167; New Y... has furnished Atlanta with 1,732 of her sons; Ohio, 1,441. Florida and Kentucky complete the list of those states in which more than 1,000 Atlantans were born, with 1,325 and 1,314 respectively.
